HIGHLIGHTS

- ✓ Large majorities in every Panel group report that “worship services and sermons” have contributed to their “understanding of Christian faith and the relation of faith to life” to a very great or great extent (p. 1).
- ✓ Two-thirds of laity and nine in ten ministers report “one particular learning or spiritual growth experience that had great significant in shaping their Christian life” (p. 1).
- ✓ Among those with a singular spiritual growth experience, four in ten members, elders, and specialized clergy, and a majority of pastors, report it took place at a camp, retreat, or conference (pp. 1, 2).
- ✓ The median age for singular spiritual growth experiences at a camp, retreat, or conference is 16.0 years among both members and pastors; for experiences at church school, 12.0 and 11.0 years, respectively; and for experiences in a small group, 33.0 and 20.0 years (p. 3).
- ✓ Compared to a similar survey in 1982, both members and pastors reveal increases in the percentage who had a singular spiritual growth experience and in the percentage who had that experience at a camp, retreat, or conference (p. 4).
- ✓ More than three in four of pastors’ congregations had sponsored a retreat in the year prior to the survey. In congregations with at least one retreat, the median number was two (p. 5).
- ✓ A majority of pastors and specialized clergy but only a third of elders and a fourth of members had attended a church retreat in the prior year (p. 5).
- ✓ Features at least three in four pastors had viewed as essential or important in the most recent retreat they planned were an “indoor sleeping facility (versus camping),” “a large assembly hall or meeting space,” “meals provided by the host facility,” and a location “within 100 miles of our church” (p. 6).
- ✓ Facility features that two-thirds or more of members rate as essential or important for an overnight church retreat they might attend are “central heating,” “indoor sleeping facility (versus camping),” “meals provided by host facility,” “air conditioning,” and “walking trails” (p. 7).
- ✓ More older than younger members view having “linens/towels provided” or “meals provided by host facility” as essential or important for an overnight church retreat they might attend, while the reverse is true for having a “swimming pool” or “picnic facility” (p. 7).
- ✓ A majority in every Panel group would be very likely or likely to attend a retreat on “developing competency in the Bible,” and a majority of ministers and large minorities of laity would be very likely or likely to attend a retreat on “ministering to one another within the congregation” (p. 8).
- ✓ More older than younger members would be very likely or likely to attend a retreat on “developing competency in the Bible” and a retreat on “ministering to one another within the congregation,” while the reverse is true for a retreat concerned with “learning a new language to better relate to your community” (p. 8).
- ✓ Few laity but most ministers have attended an event at one or more of the four PC(USA) Conference Centers (p. 9).
- ✓ Panelists in the same region as each conference center are more likely than panelists in other regions to have attended an event at that conference center (p. 9).
- ✓ Biblical interpretation/Bible study and prayer and meditation are the two most-chosen areas of Christian faith (from a list of 11) that panelists “feel the greatest need to learn more about” (p. 9).
- ✓ Nine in ten members and elders attend a congregation with a full-time senior, solo, or associate pastor or co-pastor, and four in ten attend a congregation with a full-time director of education (p. 10).

OVERVIEW

The Presbyterian Panel consists of three nationally representative samples of groups affiliated with the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.): members, elders (lay leaders), and ordained ministers. For analysis, ministers are split into two groups based on current call: pastors, serving in a congregation, and specialized clergy, serving elsewhere. New samples are drawn every three years.

These pages summarize major findings from the twelfth survey completed by the 2000-2002 Panel. The first half uses text and graphics to highlight important and useful findings. An appendix follows with comparative tables that display the percentage distribution of responses to every question for each of the four Panel groups.

Questionnaires were mailed August 16, 2002. Non-responders were sent a postcard reminder on September 18. Returns were accepted through October 2002. Response rates for this survey are: members, 48%; elders, 49%; ministers, 57%. Results are subject to sampling and other errors. As a general rule, differences of less than 8% are not statistically meaningful. Panelists had the option to complete the survey on the Web, and 6% of members, 8% of elders, and 11% of ministers did so.

In this report, the term median refers to the middle number in an ordered distribution. For example, the median age for a group of people aged 12, 21, 28, 35, and 64 years would be 28 years. The term mean refers to the mathematical average of values in a distribution; in the example, the mean age would be calculated as: $(12+21+28+35+64)/5$, or 32 years.

Like the median, a quartile is also a number that divides an ordered distribution. The first quartile is the number that divides an ordered distribution so that three-fourths of the values are greater, and one-fourth is lower. The second quartile is the number that divides an ordered distribution exactly in half (its value is identical to the median). The third quartile is the number that divides an ordered distribution such that one-fourth of the values is lower, and three-fourths are greater.

FORMATIVE FAITH EXPERIENCES

Important Contributors to Faith Development

- ✓ “Worship services and sermons” have contributed to the “understanding of Christian faith and the relation of faith to life” to a very great extent or a great extent for 80% of members, 78% of elders, 85% of pastors, and 79% of specialized clergy.
- ✓ A majority of ministers (pastors, 64%) but not laity (members, 38%; elders, 40%) report that “camps and/or retreats” contributed a very great extent or great extent to their faith understanding.
- ✓ A majority of laity (members, 51%; elders, 56%) but not ministers (pastors, 46%) report that “church school experiences” contributed a very great extent or great extent to their faith understanding.

Singular Spiritual Growth Experience

- ✓ Two-thirds of members (70%) and elders (68%) and nine in ten ministers (90%) recall “one particular learning or spiritual growth experience that had great significance” in shaping their Christian life.
- ✓ Among these panelists, half report that their singular spiritual growth experience took place prior to age 17.
- ✓ The most common setting for a singular spiritual growth experience is a camp, listed by 20% of members, 17% of elders, and 27% of pastors who had such experiences, followed by retreat (13%; 15%; and 15%). Adding conferences, the total with experiences who report them at such special venues ranges from around four in ten members (40%), elders (41%), and specialized clergy (43%), to a majority of pastors (53%).
- ✓ Other sizable groups of panelists with a singular spiritual growth experience report their location in one of three church-based settings: church school (17% of members and 6% of pastors who had an experience report it took place there); worship (10%; 10%); and youth group (9%; 9%).
- ✓ The person named by the most panelists in each group as “most instrumental” in making their spiritual growth experience a significant one is a pastor/minister: 35% of members, 36% of elders, and 48% of ministers so report.
- ✓ Other frequently named “most instrumental” persons include teacher or small group leader (elders, 35%; pastors, 28%), group members (22%; 25%), and seminar leader/speaker (12%; 19%).

Figure 2
Setting of Singular Spiritual Growth Experience

General Faith Development and Singular Experiences: Comparing the Differences

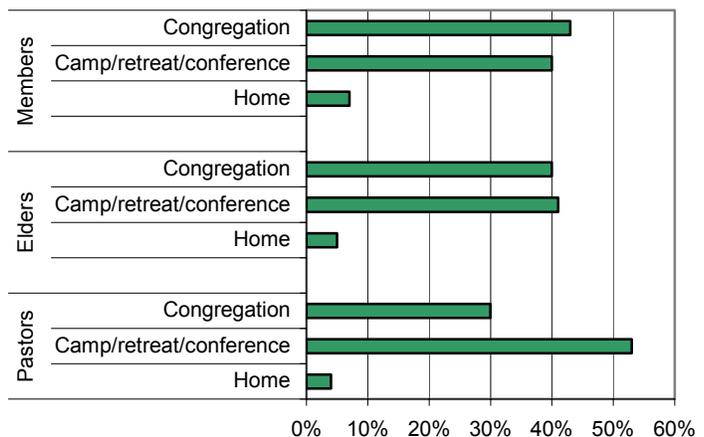

Among members, 80% report that “worship services and sermons” have made “important contributions to your understanding of Christian faith and the relationship of faith to life,” yet only 8% overall report a singular spiritual growth experience in that setting. The gap, while smaller, is also great for “church school experiences”: 51% report church school making an important contribution to their faith, but only 14% overall list it as the setting of a singular spiritual growth experience. And the gap shrinks even more when we look at “camps and/or retreats”: 38% report these settings contributing a very great or great extent to faith development, compared to 22% who report a singular spiritual growth experience there.

In short, more members report worship and church school than camps or retreats as contributing a very great or great extent to their faith development, but the opposite is true when the focus is singular spiritual growth experiences. Clearly camps and retreats are more likely settings for an intense religious experience, but worship and church school are more important for building up faith in general.

Comparing the Settings: Pastors and Laity

Among those reporting a singular spiritual growth experience, members and elders are split fairly evenly between those whose experience took place in the congregation (youth group, small group, church school, or worship) and those whose experience took place at a camp, retreat, or conference (members, 43% and 40%, respectively; elders, 40% and 41%). The pattern differs among pastors, however, with a majority reporting a camp, retreat, or conference setting (53%), and less than one-third reporting congregational setting (30%). (For none of the groups was the home a common setting: members, 7%; elders, 5%; pastors, 4%.)

Singular Spiritual Growth Experience by Age of Occurrence

The setting where a “particular learning or singular growth experience” took place is associated with the age of the respondent when the experience happened. The figure shows camps and retreats to be the setting of most singular spiritual growth experiences that took place between the ages of 13 and 18. Camps and retreats are also the setting for a large minority of these experiences at other ages.

Settings of Singular Spiritual Growth Experience by Age When Experience Took Place

Another way to look at this relationship is to sort panelists by the setting of their singular growth experience and then look at the average age at which the experience took place. Table 1 does that, showing a similar pattern for both members and pastors. In general, panelists who had a singular spiritual growth experience in church school did so at a younger age than those who did so in other settings. Those who had such an experience in a small group had the highest average age of all.

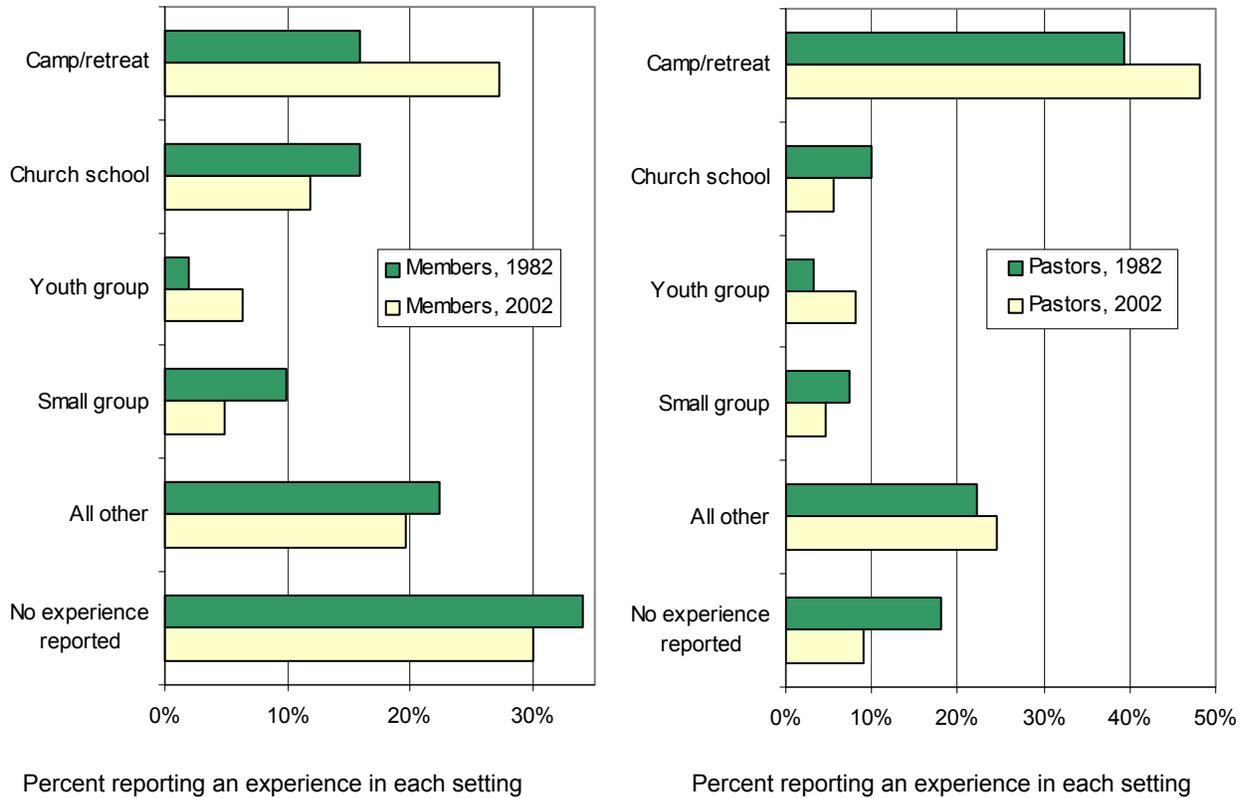

Table 1. Mean and Median Age of Singular Spiritual Growth Experience by Setting: Members and Pastors

Setting:	Members		Pastors
	Mean	Median	Mean	Median
Camp, retreat, conference	21.4	16.0	18.1	16.0
Church school	19.4	12.0	11.8	11.0
Small group	34.9	33.0	22.3	20.0
Youth group	14.4	15.0	16.0	16.0
All other	20.8	18.0	19.8	17.0

Singular Spiritual Growth Experience: Comparing 1982 and 2002

A question similar to the one on a “particular learning or spiritual growth experience” in the present survey was also asked on the April 1982 Presbyterian Panel survey.

Both members and pastors reveal an increase in the percentage who had a singular spiritual growth experience, and more specifically, both show an increase in the percentage who had that experience at a camp, retreat, or conference. A smaller increase is found for the percentages who had a singular spiritual growth experience in a youth group, and declines are found in the percentages who had such an experience in church school or in a small group.

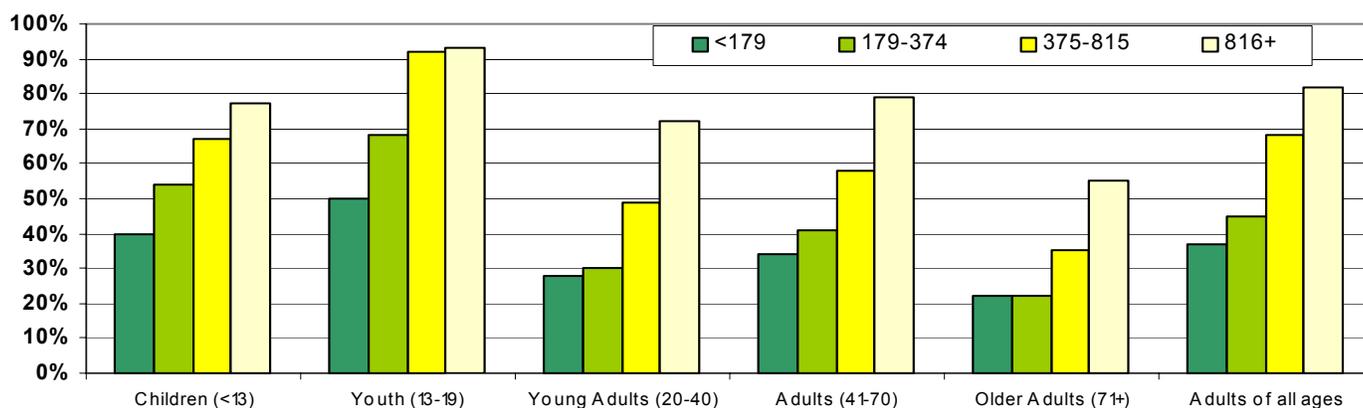

Note: The 1982 survey used an open-ended question to ask about the setting of a singular spiritual growth experience, with the hand-written responses later coded into categories. The 2002 questionnaire used pre-printed categories from which respondents selected. These different methods of data gathering suggest caution in interpreting changes over time, especially small ones.

CONGREGATIONAL RETREATS

Numbers and Types of Retreats

- ✓ 78% of congregations held or sponsored at least one retreat in the year prior to the survey, according to pastors. In these congregations, the median number of retreats reported by pastors is three.
- ✓ Majorities of pastors report at least one retreat for:
 - Children up to 12 years old (59%)
 - Youth 13-19 years old (75%)
 - Adults of all ages (58%)
- ✓ The more members a congregation has, the more likely it is to have held at least one retreat or camp in the last year for persons in every age group (Figure 6). Also, among congregations that held at least one retreat or camp in the prior year, the more members a congregation has, the more retreats or camps it held, on average.

Figure 6. Percentage of Congregations Holding at Least One Retreat/Camp in the Prior Year for Persons in Selected Age Categories, by Membership Size of the Congregations¹

¹Pastors' responses. Size categories are based on quartiles; these quartiles differ from those in Figure 10 because the pastor and elder samples are independently drawn.

Attending Retreats

- ✓ A majority of pastors (82%) and specialized clergy (63%) but only a third of elders (34%) and a fourth of members (24%) report attending at least one "church-related retreat and/or camp in the past year."
- ✓ Of members and elders attending at least one retreat, most (77% and 75%, respectively) attended only one. Of pastors and specialized clergy attending at least one retreat, most attended only one (30% and 43%, respectively) or two (30%; 30%).
- ✓ The likelihood of attending a retreat in the previous year varies by other characteristics of panelists. For example, among members, 28% of those less than 40 years of age and 30% of those aged 40-54 had attended a retreat in the prior year, compared to 14% of those 70 years or older.

Planning Retreats

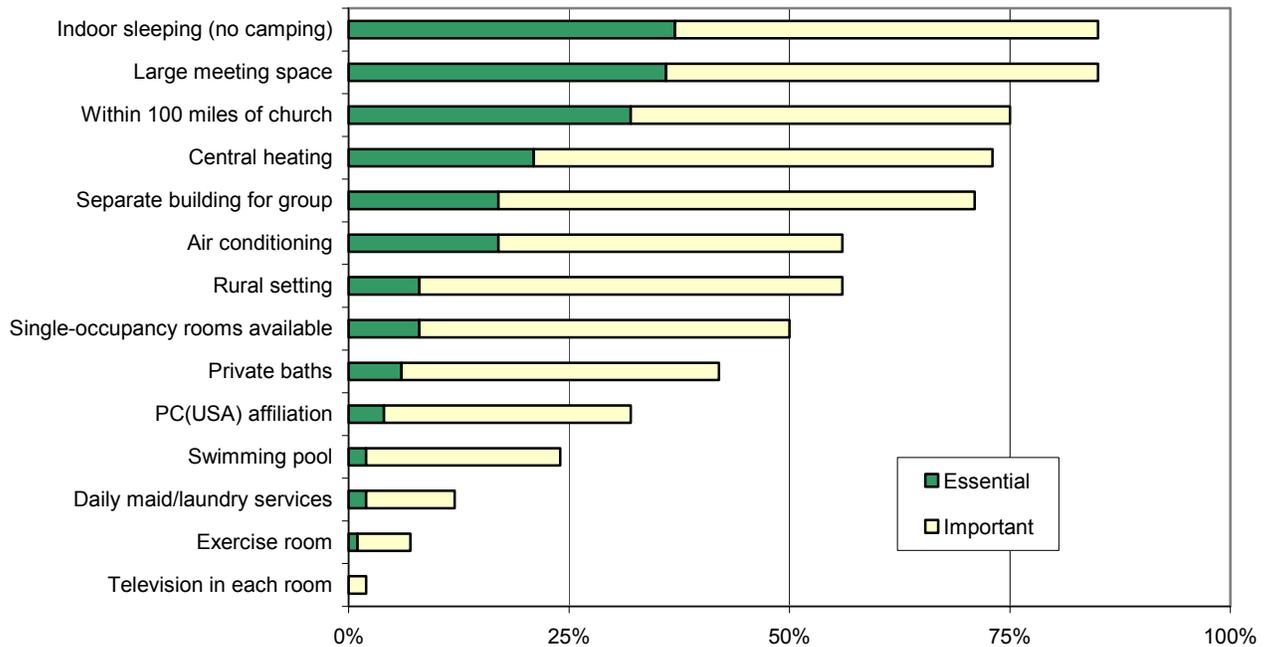

- ✓ One in nine members (11%), one in five elders (21%), two in three pastors (67%), and one in four specialized clergy (26%) report helping to plan a "retreat or overnight event" for their congregation in the prior year.
- ✓ "Presbyterian affiliation" was essential or important to 33% of members, 38% of elders, 32% of pastors, and 28% of specialized clergy in planning their last retreat.

CONGREGATIONAL RETREATS

- ✓ Features that a majority of pastors list as essential or important in the planning for the most recent retreat they helped to arrange include:
 - Indoor sleeping facility (no camping) (85%)
 - Large assembly hall or meeting space (85%)
 - Meals provided by the host facility (77%)
 - Within 100 miles of our church (75%)
 - Central heating (73%)
 - Separate building/branch for our group (71%)
 - Recreation activities (69%)
 - Rural setting (56%)
 - Air conditioning (56%)
 - Private group kitchen for meals or snacks (53%)
 - Motel-like sleeping facility (versus dorm) (52%)

- ✓ Features that relatively few pastors list as essential or very important in the planning for the most recent retreat they helped to arrange include:
 - Television in each room (2%)
 - Telephone in each room (4%)
 - Internet access on-site (6%)
 - Exercise room (7%)
 - Boating/sailing/yachting (8%)
 - Daily maid/laundry services (12%)
 - Picnic facilities (19%)
 - Swimming pool (24%)

RETREAT PREFERENCES

Facility Preferences When Attending a Retreat

- ✓ A majority of members indicate that it is essential or important for the “location of an overnight church retreat you were to attend” to have these features:
 - ✓ Relatively few members list these facility features as essential or important for an overnight church retreat they would attend:
- | | | |
|--|---|--|
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Central heating (80%) • Indoor sleeping facility (71%) • Meals provided by host facility (71%) • Air conditioning (70%) | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Walking trails (68%) • Within 100 miles of church (61%) • Private baths (59%) • Recreation activities (55%) • Rural setting (54%) | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Internet access on-site (6%) • Boating/sailing/yachting (7%) • Television in each room (8%) • Daily maid/laundry services (10%) • Swimming pool (11%) • Exercise room (15%) |
|--|---|--|
- ✓ Facility preferences of members are similar to those of other groups, with these exceptions:
 - More pastors (60%) and specialized clergy (70%) than members (45%) or elders (45%) deem “single-occupancy rooms” essential or important
 - More pastors (82%) and specialized clergy (83%) than members (71%) or elders (74%) deem “meals provided by the host facility” essential or important
 - More specialized clergy (20%) than members (6%), elders (4%), or pastors (12%) deem “Internet access on-site” essential or important
 - More pastors (61%) and specialized clergy (66%) than members (50%) or elders (53%) deem “motel-like sleeping facility (versus dorm-like)” essential or important
 - More members (34%) than pastors (21%) deem “picnic facilities” essential or important
 - More members (41%) and elders (39%) than pastors (25%) or specialized clergy (24%) deem “Presbyterian affiliation” essential or important

Age and Retreat Facility Preferences

For a majority of the 22 facility features asked about, members showed no age differences in the percentage who found those features essential or important for a retreat they would attend. However, on six features there were significant differences (Table 2). More of the oldest (70 or more years) than youngest (less than 40 years) members want “linens/towels provided” and “meals provided by host facility,” while more of the youngest than oldest members want a “swimming pool” and “picnic facilities.” Regarding a “rural setting,” more members in the middle age categories than in the youngest or oldest find it essential or important, while the reverse is true for a “swimming pool.”

Table 2. Age Differences among Members in Essential or Important Facility Features for Retreats¹

	<40 years	40-54	55-69	70+

Picnic facilities.....	44%	35%	35%	22%
Presbyterian affiliation.....	44%	31%	41%	51%

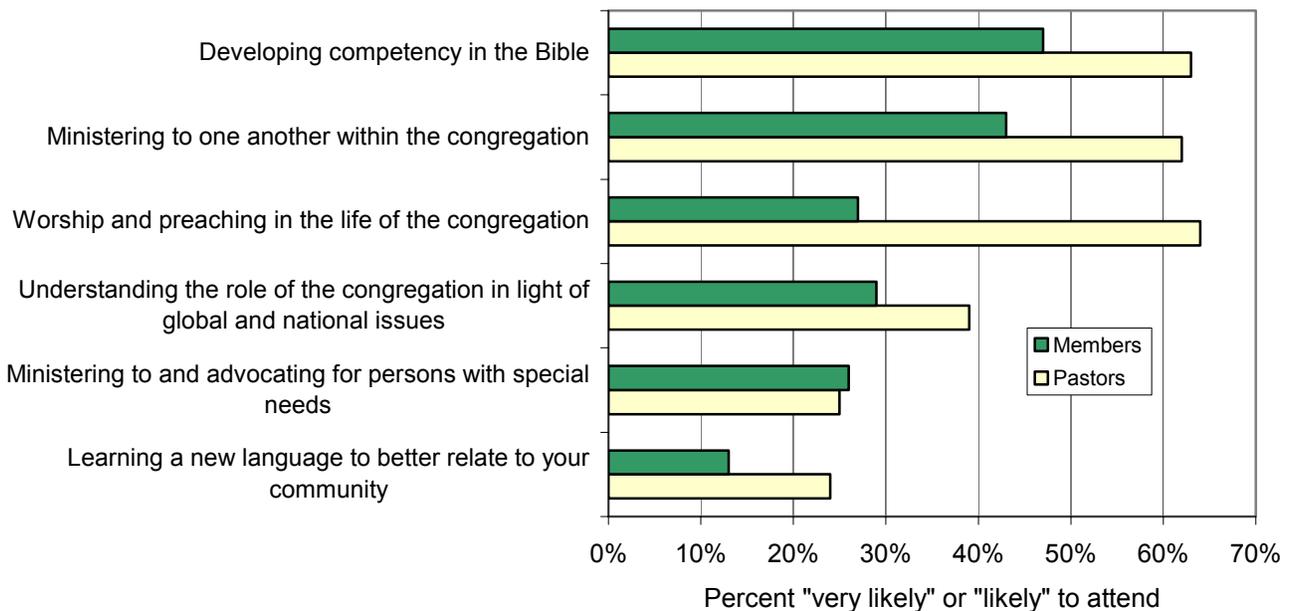

¹Differences shown are the only statistically significant ones, based on chi-square tests (p < .05)

RETREAT PREFERENCES

Content Preferences

- ✓ A majority of elders and pastors are very likely or likely to attend a retreat on “developing competency in interpreting the Bible” (59% and 63%, respectively) and on “ministering to one another within the congregation” (54%; 62%), as are 47% and 43% of members, respectively.
- ✓ “Worship and preaching in the life of the congregation” is a topic that almost two-thirds of pastors (64%) indicate would make them very likely or likely to attend a retreat, but only 27% of members and 35% of elders so respond. The gap is smaller for “understanding the role of the congregation in the light of global and national issues,” but still more pastors (39%) than members (29%) or elders (34%) would be very likely or likely to attend.
- ✓ Relatively few members (25%), elders (30%), or pastors (25%) are very likely or likely to attend a retreat focused on “ministering to and advocating for persons with special needs,” and even fewer would attend one with the topic of “learning a new language to better relate to your community” (13%, 13%, and 24%, respectively).

Percent Who are Very Likely or Likely to Attend a Retreat on Each Study Topic

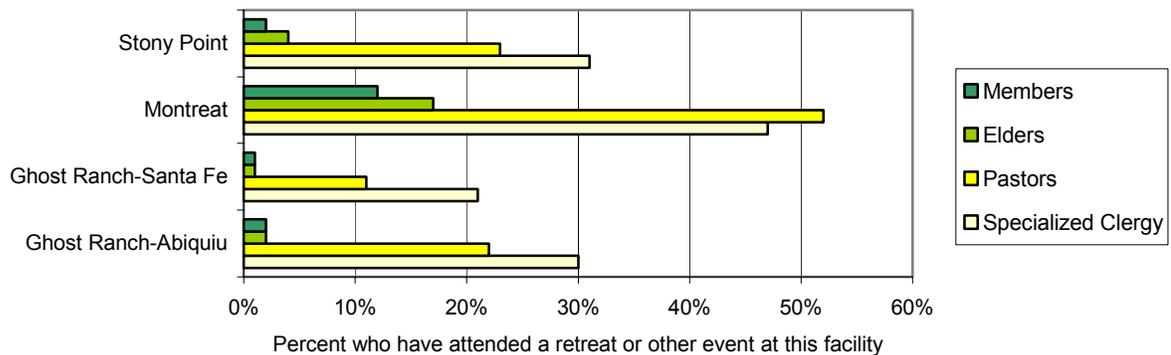

- ✓ More of the oldest (70 or more years) than youngest (<40 years) members are very likely or likely to attend a retreat with these topics:
 - Developing competency in interpreting the Bible (52% of oldest members, compared to 37% of youngest ones)
 - Ministering to one another in the congregation (52%; 26%)
 - Ministering to and advocating for persons with special needs (36%; 12%)
- ✓ However, the reverse is true for “learning a new language to better relate to your community”: 18% of members less than 40 years of age, but only 6% of those 70 years or older, reporting being very likely or likely to attend a retreat on this topic.

CONFERENCE CENTERS AND OTHER TOPICS

PC(USA) Conference Centers

- ✓ One in seven members (14%), one in five elders (20%), and seven in ten pastors (70%) and specialized clergy (71%) have “ever attended a retreat, conference, class, or seminar” at one of the four PC(USA) national conference centers (Ghost Ranch-Abiquiu; Ghost Ranch-Santa Fe; Montreat; Stony Point).
- ✓ Among panelists who have been to at least one of the four conference centers, only 12% of members and 7% of elders but half of pastors and 45% of specialized clergy have been to more than one. The most widely visited conference center by far in all Panel groups is Montreat.

Conference Center Attendance

- ✓ Region of residence is related to lifetime attendance at one of the PC(USA) retreat centers in predictable ways. For example, 28% of members in the South have attended an event at Montreat, compared to 2% in the Northeast, 3% in the Midwest, and 1% in the West. Similarly, 21% of pastors in the West have attended an event at Ghost Ranch in Abiquiu, compared to 8% in the Northeast, 12% in the Midwest, and 8% in the South.

Congregational Priorities

- ✓ Almost half of members (48%) and pastors (44%) chose accessibility to church facilities as one of two priority items (from a list of nine) that a “congregation might provide for members and staff.” Similar numbers (45%; 50%) chose scholarship help to attend camps, conferences, or other events.
- ✓ When asked to select “lowest priority” items from the same list, 90% or more in every sample chose entertainment videos, followed by recreational equipment for children and youth (members, 31%).

Learning Needs

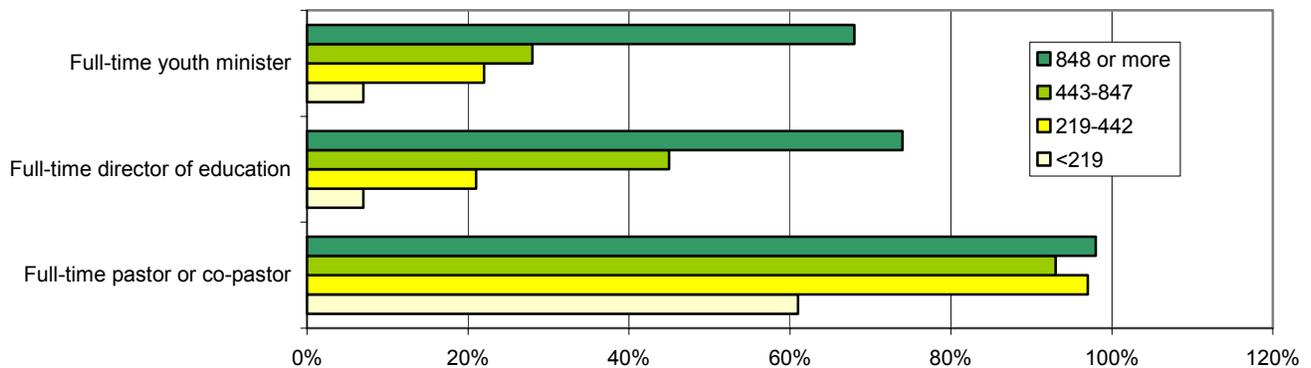

- ✓ Around two in three laity (members, 63%; elders, 65%) and four in ten ministers (pastors, 42%; specialized clergy, 40%) chose biblical interpretation/Bible study as one of three areas of Christian faith and life (from a list of 11) that they “feel the greatest need to learn more about.” Around four in ten in every group chose prayer and meditation.
- ✓ A third of pastors (31%) but only 16% of members and 23% of elders chose evangelism as the area they feel a great need to learn more about. Similarly, 22% of pastors, but only 9% of members and elders, chose modifying lifestyle. Only one other item was chosen by as many as one-third in any of the Panel groups: the church’s role in society (members, 31%; elders, 34%; pastors, 27%; and specialized clergy, 36%).

CONFERENCE CENTERS AND OTHER TOPICS

Staff Members in Congregations

- ✓ Almost nine in ten members (88%) and elders (88%) attend a congregation that has a full-time senior, solo, or associate pastor or co-pastor. An overlapping 26% and 23%, respectively, report having a part-time senior, solo, or associate pastor or co-pastor. Only 15% and 12% report having an interim pastor.
- ✓ Around four in ten members (41%) and elders (37%) report having a full-time director of education, and another 18% in both samples report a part-time director of education.
- ✓ One-third of members (35%) and elders (32%) attend congregations with a full-time youth minister, and another 15% and 14%, respectively, report that their congregation has a part-time youth minister.
- ✓ Most congregations above a minimum size have a full-time pastor or co-pastor: of the 58 elders who report no full-time pastor or co-pastor in their congregation, 45, or 78%, have 218 or fewer members. The presence of a full-time education director or full-time youth minister varies more gradually by size, with a majority of elders in only the very largest congregations (841 or more members) reporting either staff person.

¹Size categories based on quartiles; these quartiles differ from those in Figure 6 because the pastor and elder samples are independently drawn.

Christian Education Committees

- ✓ Large majorities of members (79%), elders (83%), and pastors (74%) attend or serve congregations that have a Christian education committee. However, many fewer report that their congregations have a sub-committee on adult Christian education (20%, 26%, and 36%, respectively).
- ✓ Very few congregations, ranging from 2% of those attended by elders to 6% of those served by pastors, report having a consultant in adult education, used regularly by your congregation.
