

Cammie Coulter

Select Language

Powered by  Translate

Support Cammie

Read Cammie's Blog

My name is Cammie Coulter. I am 22 years old and recently attended Auburn University, where I studied human development and family studies. I worked as a youth director for First Presbyterian Church of Auburn this past year and fell in love with youth ministry. I am thrilled to be continuing my connection to the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) through the YAV program this year. I will be serving at a nonprofit called Green Opportunities in Asheville, North Carolina. I look forward to walking alongside and serving in the Asheville community.