My name is Carson Smith and I'm a recent graduate of the University of Michigan's Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy. I spend a great deal of time thinking about civic life and spirituality. In my spare time, I'm active in electoral politics, go on long runs and sing bass in my local chancel choir at First Presbyterian Church of Ann Arbor. This fall, I'll be joining mission partners in Colombia as a Young Adult Volunteer. I'm excited to witness and walk alongside Colombians as they navigate the first year of an official peace process. My hope is that time abroad will influence my thinking on social justice and policymaking.
