My name is Catherine Warren. I hail from the great city of Atlanta, Georgia. I am a member of Decatur Presbyterian Church in Decatur, Georgia, though I spent my high school years with the North Decatur Presbyterian Church Youth Group. I'm a twenty-three year old graduate of the University of Georgia (GO DAWGS!) in Athens, Georgia where I studied International Affairs in the School of Public and International Affairs and Anthropology and (a little) Spanish in Franklin College of Arts and Sciences. At UGA, I was a member of the Presbyterian Student Center at UGA for four years as a student and a fifth year as university staff. The summer of my junior year, I had the great pleasure to intern at the Presbyterian Ministry at the United Nations. Currently serve as one of the Young Women's Representatives on the board of Presbyterian Women Inc. From August 2016 through August 2017 I will be living with a host family in Peru serving as a Young Adult Volunteer (YAV). As for after that year, I'm not certain what will happen but I hope to continue to meet new people and create lasting meaningful relationships along the way.
