My name is Cody Westbrook, I'm 21 years old from Columbus, MS. I spent two years pursuing an engineering degree at Mississippi State before realizing I had no desire to be an engineer. I spent another year and a half at school studying Philosophy which was a perfect setting for me to search for where I felt led. This questioning is what ultimately resulted in me finding the YAVs and applying. I'm excited to see what my time serving in Washington D.C. has to offer and teach me.
