My name is Katarina Greenslade, and I'm a 22-year-old from Newark, Ohio. I just finished up my undergraduate degree in Russian Studies with a minor in Comparative Literature from the College of Wooster, and I'm looking to change things up by committing myself to a year of service in Denver, Colorado. I hope to meet lots of exciting new people and have a few adventures along the way. After YAV, I'm looking to either find work in social justice/service, or potentially go to graduate school.
