

Kristen Reisor

Select Language

Powered by Google Translate

Support Kristen

Read Kristen's Blog

My name is Kristen Reisor. I graduated from the University of Delaware in May 2017 with a major in organizational and community leadership and a minor in business administration. I have worked at Red Clay Creek Presbyterian Church for the past three years as a youth intern. The past three summers, I worked at a summer camp in California and Canada as a high ropes facilitator and counselor. I was a member of the University of Delaware women's rowing team for four years and was a leader in the Student Athlete Association committee for two of those years. My sophomore year, I volunteered in Tanzania for three weeks and climbed mount Kilimanjaro. My junior year I studied in Thailand for five weeks. I am so excited to be a YAV in New Orleans!