My name is Leif Lyon Frymire, I am 25. I grew up in the town of Old Forge, New York where I am a member of Niccolls Memorial Presbyterian Church. Old Forge is approximately 5 hours north west of New York City located in the Adirondack Park, which is the largest state park in the nation. As such I love the outdoors, camping, hiking, lying out on docks, canoeing, and both Nordic and Alpine skiing.

After I graduated from St. Lawrence University I struggled to find my way in life. Luckily I found the YAV program, and this past year I served in Belfast, Northern Ireland.

It has been a transformative year for me, both spiritually and vocationally. My understanding of my relationship to Christ has developed in ways I would have never guessed. I've gained incredible experiences working with Whitehouse Presbyterian and PeacePlayers International – Northern Ireland. It is because of these experiences and the development of my faith that I chose to serve as a second year YAV in NYC. I am incredibly excited about this new opportunity. I will be challenged in ways that I cannot imagine, and look forward to the new experiences.

Thank you for checking out my profile, and if you are able, please consider supporting me on this journey. Also, you may find my blog www.themightylyon.wordpress.com of interest where I will document my journey in NYC and has a backlog of all my experiences in Belfast!
