

Megan Koeneman

Select Language

Powered by  Translate

Support Megan

Read Megan's Blog

My name is Megan Koeneman and I am from Columbus, Ohio. In May, I graduated from the College of Wooster with a Bachelor of Arts in global international studies (specialization in history) and a minor in German studies. While at Wooster I was able to feed my passions of learning about international affairs and traveling, with a semester spent in Freiburg, Germany, which lead me to my senior independent study, where I researched the ongoing Syrian refugee crisis in Germany. Along with my academic interests of human rights and history, I love to run, practice yoga, cook, be outside and listen to music. I am looking forward to what Peru has in store for me this coming YAV year.