

Sam Russell

Select Language

Powered by

Support Sam

Read Sam's Blog

My name is Sam Russell. I am 23 years old and determined to discover more about the world and my place in it. I love exploring, traveling, learning and enjoying nature. In May 2016, I graduated with honors from the University of Mississippi (Ole Miss) with a degree in business administration. Following graduation, I spent a summer working in Skagway, Alaska (If you've never been to Alaska I highly recommend it), before accepting a front desk job at The Skirvin Hilton in Oklahoma City. Since a young age, I thought I had my entire future as a hotel manager/owner figured out. However, now that I am in the "real world," my goals are changing, putting me in a period of vocational and spiritual discernment. I believe that adventure is all around us and that we must embrace it and grow from it to become who we are meant to be. Being a Young Adult Volunteer in Washington, D.C., is the next step on my journey and I can't wait to see what this incredible city has in store for me!