Seven Marks of Vital Congregations Description
Seven Marks of Vital Congregations

1. Lifelong Discipleship Formation vs. Complacent “Christian” Piety, Simply Teaching Good Morals, or Offering the Latest Programs

- “The righteousness that comes through faith in Christ, the righteousness of God based on faith.” (Phil. 3:9b)
- From the cradle to the grave seeking to be formed for right living with God and with all people.
- Faith — seeking understanding, cultivating wisdom, and actively following Christ. It is not an extra-curricular activity nor merely head-knowledge.
- Discipleship awakened and engaged in issues facing today’s culture: injustice, inequality, divisive segregation, oppression, suffering, abuse of creation.
- Discipleship formed and strengthened in the community of Christ and permeates daily practices and daily living.

2. Intentional Authentic Evangelism vs. “Jesus Freaks”; “Christian” Hypocrisy; A Committee

- “We have this treasure in clay jars, so that it may be made clear that this extraordinary power belongs to God.” (2 Cor. 4:7)
- Intentionally sharing the Good News of Jesus Christ, not just acts of kindness.
- Authentically sharing Christ because it is intrinsic to self-identity; overflow of Christ in our life.
- Relational, not programmatic or systematic

3. Outward Incarnational Focus vs. Inward Institutional Survival; Closed Communities of Assimilation/Exclusion

- “The gate is narrow and the road is hard that leads to life, and there are few who find it.” (Matt. 7:14)
- Outward exploration, awareness, and focus on neighbors and neighborhood.
- Beyond relationship with those who are like us, the incarnate Christ dwells among the lowly & least, the stranger & the suffering, the marginalized & majority.
- Missional focus on where Christ is already living and present and calling us to dwell.

4. Empower Servant Leadership vs. the Pastor’s Job; Monopolized Leadership; Hiring the Young Energetic Pastor; Burning Out Good Volunteers

- “The harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few; therefore, ask the Lord of the harvest to send out laborers.” (Matt. 9:37–38)
- Identify, nurture, support the use of spiritual gifts of all people to serve; not monopolized cliques of power.
- All voices and people are necessary, and it is noticeable when people are absent/missing.
- Nurture and encourage those specifically called and gifted for pastoral ministry.

Seven Marks of Vital Congregations

Lifelong Discipleship Formation vs. complacent “Christian” piety; simply teaching good morals; or offering the latest programs

Lifelong Discipleship Formation is about daily life. It’s about how we claim and proclaim our identity as followers of Christ. It’s about how we practice our faith; how we grow in faith, cherish faith, and share faith in the world. Beyond mere words, how do people know we are disciples of Jesus Christ? No matter the age, it’s about daily seeking and living in relationship with the living God. We are called to be righteous, to seek justice, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with God. Thus, Lifelong Discipleship Formation is about how we live into that right relationship with God, with all God’s people, and all of creation. It’s about growing in the community of God’s grace, the church, and interpreting faith in our everyday life; confronting brokenness and sinfulness when we fall short of the glory of God and shining a bold light of Christ for all to see. Lifelong Discipleship Formation requires an awakened and engaged commitment to God, and to all people whom Christ loves. It is about the call to daily take up our cross and follow Christ.

A. Bibliical References:
   - Acts 2:42–47; Luke 8:11–18; Philippians 3:9b; Romans 8:1–17; Matthew 5:1–16; Deuteronomy 11:13–21

B. Objectives:
   - An intentional plan for discipleship formation of all ages; from the cradle to the grave theology (including, but not limited to, family systems and intergenerational discipleship where applicable).
   - A regular practice of Bible Study, prayer, and other spiritual habits, inside and outside where we gather.
   - Church teaches rituals and faith traditions, biblical literacy and spiritual practices to all members.
   - Church equips and empowers all people to interpret faith in daily life. It engages in, not hides from, difficult conversations of society and cultures today. (i.e., sexism, racism, classism, ageism, and all other “isms” that divide).
   - Fostered environments of diversity which help enhance and deeply enrich Biblical study, worship, and communal life.

C. Potential Outcomes:
   - People learn to think critically and interpret Scripture in their daily lives. They have the biblical literacy and the faith language to engage in necessary conversations.
   - They practice a living relationship, to a living God, responding to the call to follow as true disciples of Jesus Christ.
   - Move beyond committee meetings and program attendance, and identity in Christ becomes central to life.
   - Genuine sense of joy, energy, commitment and passion to being the community of God.
   - People “outside the church” glean a new understanding of what it is to follow Christ and be church.
   - The church begins to transcend culture and be about God’s work of reconciliation, love, and peace.

D. Reflection Questions:
   - Does Christian formation in your church lead people to change the way they live? (i.e. schedule time, spend money, give resources, see different people, serve, spend time with family, have conversations with friends)
   - Are people of all ages being challenged in assumptions, growing in understanding, and learning the language of faith?
   - Does the study of scripture influence the mission and ministry of your church?
   - Are faithful habits being translated to daily living?
   - Does the Word of God permeate all aspects of life together? Name some examples.
   - Do all people feel welcome to share their voice, opinion, story without judgement or fear?
   - What difficult conversations of faith and culture does your congregation need to have together? Whose voices are missing from the conversation to take place?
   - As a disciple, what uncomfortable things do you need to let go of, truths do you need to be aware of, places you are afraid to follow, things you are afraid God might call you to do? (i.e. injustice, oppression, hatred, evils, suffering, inequalities to confront).
   - How can faithful discipleship become our daily identity instead of just religious piety? How do others know we are disciples of Jesus Christ?
Intentional Authentic Evangelism vs. “Jesus freaks”; “Christian” hypocrisy; a committee responsibility Evangelism is simply sharing the Good News. It is authentic and it is intentional, not merely expressions of kindness or good moral ethics. We all have Good News to share in our lives; it is a part of our identity. And when we share this news, it is with intentionality and with people with whom we have relationships. We don’t have to be trained to share the good news of a new job, baby or puppy! We simply share what is beautiful and dear to us. Therefore, evangelism must be connected to lifelong Christian formation. It is through intentional spiritual practices in the faith community that we meld God’s story with our story, and we share that story with people in our daily lives.

A. Biblical References:
   John 4:1–41; 2 Corinthians 4:7; Galatians 2:19b–20;
   Mark 4:1–20; 1 Peter 3:13–22; Matthew 4:19–20;
   Psalm 96; John 3:11–21; Romans 10:1–17

B. Objectives:
   • To recognize that all disciples are called to Evangelism, not just committees and leaders; it is an authentic part of their life
   • To empower and equip all people to enter relationships unashamed and unafraid to share the Good News
   • The church recognizes that evangelism should be need-based (meets needs of un-churched/de-churched)
   • The church develops practices for people to share their story and give witness to Good News in their lives

C. Potential Outcomes
   • Hospitality is not viewed as a substitute for evangelism
   • Evangelism is viewed as a way of life, not as a program or function of a few
   • The mission focuses on sharing the Good News
   • The people of God meld and claim God’s story within their lives; living unafraid to share it
   • Develop authentic relationships founded in Christ; image of Christ is shared

D. Reflection Questions:
   • When did the news of Christ become Good News in your life?
   • Does your church authentically allow individuals to come as they are, with their particular stories, and hear the Good News? Why or why not?
   • In your church, how do people share their stories and connect it to the Story of God’s redeeming love?

Outward Incarnational Focus vs. inward institutional survival; closed communities of assimilation/exclusion

If discipleship formation is about learning/understanding/living the Good News, and authentic evangelism is about intentionally sharing the Good News in relationships, then outward incarnation is about not limiting where and to whom we share the Good News. Outward incarnational focus is about being the gathered community of Christ sent out! We go not because we have a strategy for new membership; we go because we have a Savior who commanded us to be on God’s mission. We go because God’s saving love in Christ, cannot be inwardly contained in our buildings when we live with neighbors in need and a hurting world. The Good News is meant to transform and transcend. The church is meant to be a beacon of Christ’s grace, justice, freedom, and love. Outward incarnational focus means we daily take up our cross and follow to the marginalized of society, the poor among us, the suffering and sick, the stranger and enemy, the down-trodden and “the least of these.” We do not just focus on bringing similar or like-minded people inside to assimilate to our way of doing things; nor do we just go to people and places that are familiar and comfortable. Outward incarnational focus, requires an emboldened faith, that goes because Christ is already present, and calls us to join.

A. Biblical References:
   Matthew 25:31–46; Romans 12:1–21; Matthew 7:14;

B. Objectives:
   • Conduct community analysis to ascertain the needs, fears, hopes, and pressure points in the community, so that the church’s ministry and mission can address them.
   • The church practices genuine hospitality (more than being warm and friendly, it is about attempting to Anticipate the needs of others; practicing inclusion; stepping out of the comfort zone; loving and nurturing others; it's about them, not you.

- Join on Christ’s mission with the lost, weak, suffering, lowly, least, marginalized, oppressed, outcast; working towards forgiveness and reconciliation
- Faithful engagement in rich relationships of all diversity
- Church becomes a living being sent to follow the Spirit and join where Christ is already present; not still/static

C. Potential Outcomes:
- The congregation is a noted presence in the community (i.e. needs are met, people feel welcomed, reconciliation and diversity help transcend culture)
- The community is viewed as being more important than the church building; we take up God’s mission
- Transformation and renewal of congregations that reflect the rich diversity of the kingdom of God
- Shifts from “bringing in young people and young families” to sending out, showing up, being present where God is already at work; many come to know Christ their Savior

D. Reflection Questions:
- Who is at the margins of your community? Your congregation?
- How does your congregation show up outside your building and share the love of Christ?
- What would your community say about your churches identity?
- Where is Christ at work and inviting you to join? Does your congregation have an emboldened spirit to follow Christ?
- What prevents you from going where God may send you? What are your fears? What leaves you focused inward?
- Does your church welcome the lost, help the doubting, sit with the grieving, lend aid to the poor, help the downtrodden, offer forgiveness to the sinner, clothe the naked, support the suffering and sick, strengthen the faint hearted, respond to the skeptic, help bind up the broken-hearted, stand up for the weak, give voice to those silenced, pray with those in pain, and otherwise live into the incarnate spirit of Christ our Savior? If so, in what ways? If not, why?
- Do you feel like your church equips you in the faith to have difficult conversations of racial oppression, social injustice, white-privilege, racial profiling, sexual and gender inequality, terrorism, and/or stereotypes and prejudices of any kind?

Empower Servant Leadership vs. The pastor’s job; monopolized leadership; hiring the young energetic pastor; burning out good volunteers.

All people of God, in the image of Christ, are given fruit of the Spirit and spiritual gifts meant for building up the Church. In this way, we are all called to serve the Lord, to do our part in membership of the body of Christ. Every part is necessary. Every part is valuable, and every voice is important. Every person should be equipped, nurtured, and supported to use their gifts to glorify God, through servant leadership; not just cliques of powerful people or continual burnout of the same leaders. In keeping with true discipleship formation, churches are called to help all members to be empowered to use their gifts in servant leadership. And, God calls and equips some for the particular task of pastoral ministry, which must be cultivated, nurtured and trained. Ministry can never be about a single pastor, but it is about identifying, equipping and empowering those servant leaders God puts in our midst.

A. Biblical References:

B. Objectives:
- The church encourages members, when appropriate, to be “ministers” (priesthood of all believers)
- The congregation provides tools and a healthy environment to train and support leaders
- The staff and other leaders model servant leadership principles
- Develop methods in which voices, ideas, opinions are shared; people are empowered in their faith
- Congregation assists people in discerning spiritual gifts for use in service to church and community

C. Potential Outcomes:
- Shared power and fresh ideas generated in worship and ministry, not staff or program-driven
- The church has healthy expectations of leadership; nurture and support is a shared responsibility
- Empowered servant leaders committed and passionate in mission and ministry of the church
- Servant leadership is diversified by age, race, gender, etc., as all people identify spiritual gifts and are trained in their call to serve

D. Reflection Questions:
- How does your church identify, equip, train, and support its leaders?
- Who is the leadership in your church? Is leadership a shared power? Do the same people lead everything?
• Is your leadership diverse? Are different ages, genders, races, beliefs, views represented?
• What practices does your congregation have that ensure the health of your servant leadership? How are they practically supported? What do you do when someone is burned out?
• How does your church handle monopolized cliques of leadership?
• What spoken and unspoken expectations do you have for your pastor(s)?
• How does your church help members discern spiritual gifts? How are voices/ideas heard?
• How are people empowered and encouraged to serve?
• What does your church do if the wrong people are leading?

Spirit-Inspired Worship vs. self-gratifying worship; stale ritual divorced of meaning; or consumer entertainment worship

Spirit-Inspired worship is a gift of God’s wonder! Six days we labor and toil, and on this Holy Sabbath day we get to come into the presence of God; we get to encounter the awesome mystery of the God who longs to be known in relationship with us. We worship, because through prayer and supplication, through the Word proclaimed and the sacraments celebrated, through the songs of praise and passing of peace — God meets us there. Worship is our lifeline to the Holy God. Our worship should be active participation into the living relationship with the triune God; thus, all should feel welcome and have a place. Worship should challenge, teach, transform, convict, and call us into deeper relationship with God and one another; not gratify our comforts and entertain our desires. Worship is an encounter with God that we understand and do not understand. It is an act filled with mystery and awe, but in worship we have the opportunity to express our deepest desires to God and listen for God’s voice. In worship, we also experience the call to serve and be in mission.

A. Biblical References:

B. Objectives
• Prayerful discernment of members actively participating in all aspects of planning and leading worship
• There is thoughtful and sound biblical preaching
• Intentional worship does not cling to rituals, but is open to filling sacred space with new rituals

• Engages all people, of all diversity, and enables them to be active participants in the experience
• Creates space for peoples’ stories; not afraid of silence
• Communal connectivity to one another, and connection to God
• Challenges and sends the people of God beyond their pew into daily life
• There should be awe, expectation, and anticipation in coming into the presence of God

C. Potential Outcomes:
• Worship helps people deepen their relationship with God and nurtures faith
• Worship strengthens our communal ties as stories are shared and we intimately experience God
• Worship becomes an expression of relationships to God and to the household of God
• Worship opens us to experience the wonder God longs to reveal and wonder transforms our lives and ministry, never leaving us the same, but leading us to even deeper questions
• Worship enlivens us, emboldens us to be a people of God in our communities and our world
• Blessing of rich diversity as people share new rituals, traditions, ways of interpreting which challenge and enrich our wisdom in faith

D. Reflection Questions:
• What would you say are the fundamental principles to why you gather for worship?
• What would a visitor say about your worship?
• How does your congregation practice spirit-inspired worship — allowing space for lament, praise, confession, questions, wrestling contemplation with the Word?
• Is worship collaborative in your church? Are people of all ages/backgrounds included?
• Does your congregation explain, teach and educate people on the rituals and traditions?
• How does your worship challenge, ignite, educate and transform people?
• Does worship meet people where they are and allow for active participation? How do people share their stories?
• Name times when God’s wonder was experienced in worship.
• How open is your congregation to change in worship? Do they seek new ways to ritualize the sacredness of worship, or do they hold on sacredly to their rituals and traditions?
• Do all cultures, races, languages, genders, ages, all diversity find a sacred place to worship? Is worship enriched by their unique traditions and styles?
Caring relationships seems an easy mark of vitality. We all want a place to belong; people who care about us. Many congregations would argue: “this is why we come together; we welcome and care for each other.” Yet, caring relationships in Christ requires true agape love; a sacrificial, self-emptying, perfect love. Although we are imperfect, it is about striving to see all people the way Christ sees them; not from judgments or preconceived perceptions. It is about helping walk with others, responding to their needs, desiring their well-being. It is about walking with people in tragedy, and rejoicing in their triumphs. Caring relationships of God is about allowing people to be real in their stories, without hiding or holding back, and loving every imperfect part of them. Church should be the one place where the God who already knows, encounters our honest confession, and allows us to give testimony. It should be the place where conflicts are confronted, crucial conversations of forgiveness and reconciliation are had, and people of God are transformed by agape-love. Caring relationships is about vulnerability and trust. It is about meeting all people of God where they are, and sharing our One Savior, Jesus Christ. Caring relationships don’t come through hospitality and welcoming committees, they come through a carefully cultivated environment that is genuine and sincere in being the household of God.

A. Biblical References:

B. Objectives:
• Cultivates an environment of true caring relationships through genuine opportunities to share testimony
• The church seeks to strengthen ties within the household of God; fostering relationships between demographics, with members on the margin, people who are missing or who have been hurt
• The church seeks to build and rebuild relationships of conflict or strain; clear process of conflict resolution
• The church develops caring relationships in the neighborhood and community (i.e. other churches, community organizations, health and human services, advocacy groups, presbytery)
• Evaluate and envision ways of sharing the love of Christ in new relationships

C. Potential Outcomes:
• The church provides lasting community of agape — a love where all people belong
• Faith is strengthened; accountability and commitment grows

- People find belonging, lay burdens down, share needs, experience Christ
- Collaboration with other churches and community organizations becomes easier
- Growing connectional relationships throughout the presbytery, the denomination, and beyond

D. Reflection Questions:
• What practices of caring relationships does your congregation cherish most?
• What would a neighbor/community visitor say about the environment of caring relationships?
• How does your congregation respond in caring for the sick, marginalized, grieving, lonely? What about the alcoholic, the racially profiled, the abused child?
• Are people free to share their story and feel comfortable being authentic?
• What stops us from truth-telling in God’s house? What are the fears?
• How might you foster a genuine environment of caring relationships and true agape?
• How does your church handle conflict?
• What relationships in the church need to be reconciled?
• How do you foster and nurture lasting relationships in your community, with your presbytery, and beyond?

Ecclesial Health vs. unhealthy dysfunction; toxic environments; obsolete and irrelevant buildings

Ecclesial health is about: 1) Why we gather as a church community 2) How we practice being church together. It is about whether our mission, vision, and values match up with the ways we live together. It requires continual attentiveness, awareness, and assessment in asking “are we who we say we are?” And more importantly, “are we who God is calling us to be?” Prayer and discernment are at the heart of ecclesial health! There are several factors to ecclesial health: prayerful discernment, decision-making process, health of pastors, stewardship of budget and resources, clarity in mission and ministries. Ecclesial health is about the people of God having a clear purpose; all people are stake-holders invested in being a part of this community of faith. There are shared core values, a clear mission, and commitment and loyalty to the life we gather in as church. Yet, they also know that this is a living faith. So, they dare to dream and understand that change is inevitable. With ecclesial health, there is joy and gratitude in coming together; people, not programs or properties are valued. People gather and are sent to be Christ’s Church.
A. Biblical References:

B. Objectives:
• A communal life centered on prayer and discernment of God’s will
• Clarity in Vision, Mission, Core Values; budget reflects these core principles
• Continual attentiveness, awareness and assessment to mission and practices of being church
• Pastor(s) and staff are regularly evaluated using best practices
• Pastor(s) and staff, all servant leaders, are nurtured and supported in health; clear expectations
• Stewardship and tithing are taught year-round; accountable giving in gratitude
• Transparent in spending; continual discernment of budget sustainability
• All are stakeholders, committed to fiscal responsibilities, active participation, and necessary voices in envisioning, dreaming, and decision-making

C. Potential Outcomes:
• Congregations practice a living faith, ever-changing, where prayer is central to existence
• People are the church sharing core values, mission, vision
• Authentic joy, desire, commitment in being the church
• There is a culture of accountability and risk taking, openness to new things
• Sustainable budget, tithing responsibility, stewardship center on generosity to being church
• Pastor(s) and leaders are cared for, evaluated, and supported

D. Reflection Questions:
• How would you describe the ecclesial health of your church?
• Do you feel like your church centers life with prayer at the heart of all things?
• What is the mission of your church? Who wrote it? How does your church live into its mission? How does your budget reflect your mission?
• What are the core values and vision of your church? Does everyone know and share them?
• Does your congregation do well to embrace change?
• When was the last time a dream led to incredible new vision and ministry in your church?
• Are people stakeholders in being a part of your church? Do they feel committed to values and mission? Do they feel they are necessary in dreaming, envisioning, decision-making process?
• What are the policies for pastor(s) and staff in your church? How are they evaluated? Supported?
• How does your church teach stewardship and tithing?
• Who makes decisions in your church? Are they transparent? Do all get buy-in; all opinions heard?
• Is your budget sustainable? How is it assessed? Who determines spending?
Lifelong Discipleship Formation

Opening Prayer

God of steadfast love,
The earth and all that is within it proclaim your wondrous works. The mystery of your splendor, the hope of your redemption, the truth of your salvation are daily made manifest throughout your beloved creation. You are, indeed, a living God who longs to reveal in wisdom and in truth. You long for relationships of righteousness. You desire for your people to marvel at your majesty and be transformed by your grace. Lord, we admit we do not always perceive it. We fear to follow; we ignore our discipleship. In Christ, help us to have courage and conviction to walk in faith that seeks wisdom and righteousness all of our days. Make us a people whose lives proclaim your story, and witness to your love. Form us as your disciples, so that we might be instruments of your will and grow ever closer to you. For this we pray in the name of Jesus Christ, our Savior and Lord. Amen.

Scripture: Acts 2:42–47

• Have someone read scripture passages aloud.
• Allow time for silence to read on your own. Highlight key words, phrases, images that speak to you.
• Take a few moments to share those with a partner or with the entire group.

Background

Acts 2:42–47 is Luke’s depiction of the primitive communal life together. It focuses on four key ideas:

1) The apostolic teaching
2) Fellowship “koinonia”—a group of companions who shared in a common life
3) Breaking of bread in their homes—central pledge and symbol of common life and common faith; table fellowship. “In their homes” is differentiated from the “apostolic teaching” to note that discipleship formation happens inside and outside the “temple” life together.
4) They devoted themselves to prayer—devotional life finds expression in family gatherings and daily community.

v. 43 depicts the communal life together and the assurance of God’s presence through “many wonders and signs.” Notice the idea that “awe came upon everyone.” The notion of “awe” or “fear” is a testament to miracles within the Old Testament. It is characteristic of the reverence attributed to God’s power. “The fear of the Lord is the beginning of all wisdom.” Psalm 111:10. This communal gathering, the revelation attributed in apostolic teaching, prayer, breaking bread together and fellowship, are all attributed to the fact that God shows up in Spirit and in truth. God reveals God’s self in relationship to God and to one another. This communal life seeks wisdom and understanding, and God is present there. Thus, “All who believed were together and had all things in common” (v. 44).

Luke emphasizes the daily routine of the community, whereby daily needs were being met, people gathered in the temple, broke bread in homes and praised God with glad and generous hearts. And daily God was there, adding to those whom God gathered.

“As one views modern congregations, many with their hectic round of activities — yoga, ceramics, daycare — one suspects that socialization is being substituted for the gospel, warm-hearted busyness is being offered in lieu of Spirit-empowered community. One wonders if the church needs to reflect again that when all is said and done ‘one thing is needful’, namely to embody, in the church’s unique way, the peculiarity of the call to devote ourselves ‘to the apostles’ teaching’ and fellowship, to breaking of the bread and the prayers.” —William H. Willimon

Living God,
In Jesus Christ, we have been given Good News of saving and sacrificial love. This news is the very breath that offers us life. It is the unmerited salvation, the gift of grace, and the hope of an eternal home in your kingdom. In times of suffering or sorrow, in times of rejoicing and rest, this is indeed the Good News of our entire being. But, we forget that sometimes, Lord. We separate it from daily news. We hide it away so we don’t offend. Lord, make your will our will, your intent our intentionality. Make intentional authentic evangelism who we are, unapologetically. Make it so that we cannot help but share this good news in authentic relationship with others. Lord, this we pray to the one who gave life so that we might live, Jesus Christ. Amen.

Background

Jesus is leaving Judea for Galilee, because the Pharisees are jealous of Jesus’ success in those who were coming to believe. In order to get to Galilee, Jesus goes through Samaria. The hatred and violence between the Jews and the Samaritans were heightened during this time, as Jews were being attacked traveling to and from Jerusalem for the temple feasts. In fact, the violence made travelers take a different, more popular route, but Jesus went with his disciples into Samaria.

Jesus, who is tired, comes upon this Samaritan woman, drawing water in the midday heat. Here the themes unfold: the living water (vv. 7-15); spiritual worship (vv. 16-24); and Jesus’ self-disclosure as the Messiah (vv. 25-26).

Note that Christ first comes close; he draws people into conversation and relationship. He meets them for who they are, right where they are, and genuinely talks with them. No pamphlet, no immediate call to repentance, no hellfire scare tactics, just a real conversation.

This story identifies two basic necessities to humanity: water and food. John gives a glimpse of a tired Christ in human flesh who sits in the heat of the day and asks for water. From drawing near in relationship with the Samaritan woman, then God begins to offer her a drink in which she will never thirst. There is nothing, not the threat of violence amid these two peoples, not the story of this woman’s life, not the heat of day or the fact Jesus has not eaten, nothing—that will stop Christ from meeting this woman with Good News. In fact, when the disciples try to get him to eat, Jesus says, “My food is to do the will of him who sent me and to complete his work. Do you not say, ‘Four months more, then comes the harvest?’ But I tell you, look around you, and see how the fields are ripe for harvesting. The reaper is already receiving wages and is gathering fruit for eternal life, so that the sower and the reaper may rejoice together” (vv. 34-36). Meanwhile, many in the city of Samaria came to believe, because of what the woman shared with them.

Opening Prayer

Christ, you took on human flesh, so that we might see and believe, so that we might live a life surrendered to ourselves and steadfast upon the salvation you bring. You took on flesh, and you entered this world, this community, this congregation, so that we might follow you in faithful paths of redemption. But, Lord, you know we fear what we do not know; we sit unwilling to follow you out. It is not that we don’t care about an outward focus of you in meeting the needs of a broken and fearful world crying out for salvation, but we get busy. We get overwhelmed by the weight of it all. Lord, fill us with your emboldened Spirit of courage and strength, so that we might be led out to join our living God. Make us the community you long for us to be: a beacon of light, a vessel of hope, a glimpse of eternal love for all people to witness. For we pray to the One who is fully God and fully human, Jesus Christ. Amen.

Background

Paul writes to the church in Rome outlining the ethical principles to the mercies of God. It is a call to frame our lives as “living sacrifices” according, not to our will, but to the will of God. Paul Achtemeier writes, “The fundamental response to the gracious lordship of God displayed in his Son is to allow oneself to be shaped totally by the new lordship, rather than by the lordship of sin that operates in ‘this world.’ Beginning with the Christian community (12:3-13), Paul moves to the wider society (vv. 14-21) in his discussion of the impact of God’s structuring grace on human relationships.”

Her name was Grace. When I sat with her on the front steps of the church in Africa, she seemed timid and quiet. As the custodian of the church grounds, she seemed to appreciate keeping to herself. Finishing up a long day, I sat beside Grace on the steps and asked, “How are you, Grace?” A common question of cordial conversation became for me, the moment that God’s grace manifested in this shy woman named Grace. She told me that tomorrow was her birthday, and this was a special birthday, because it marked the one-year anniversary of God’s telling her, “Grace, it’s not your time to die.” Grace had been robbed one night walking home after dark and received an injury on her leg that became infected. After several days unable to get the infection under control and her fever to break, the doctor told her family members to prepare for the worst. “Grace is probably not going to make it through the night. She is going to die.” In and out of awareness, Grace vaguely heard the words of the doctor and that of her family, but she said that night she prayed, and she asked God if she was going to die. And Grace told me, “I heard God answer: ‘No, Grace, it’s not your time to die.’” So, the following morning, all were amazed to see Grace sitting up, her fever broken. Although she carries the scars of that horrible day, she sat on those steps of the church sobbing in gratitude for the grace God poured out in her life. “I just want to spend my birthday giving thanks to God and surrounded by those I love.” The following day, we celebrated Grace’s birthday, and her life, exactly that way. Gathered together in love, we gave thanks to God for the grace and mercy shown to this beautiful woman, Grace.

Empower Servant Leadership

Opening Prayer

Almighty God,
By the work of your hands, you created all that is good. You formed us in Christ’s image, and you fashioned us with spiritual gifts according to your will. “What are human beings that you are mindful of them, mortals that you care for them? Yet you have made them a little lower than God and crowned them with glory and honor” (Psalm 8:4-5). Created in your image, Lord, we have been made to serve and glorify you. Lord, help us to strengthen our gifts, and live empowered by your Spirit. Help us to find strength in serving one another, for we can accomplish far greater things in your name. And may we be your disciples, who help nurture and encourage the gifts of all others without envy or strife. God, we know the harvest is plentiful, so make us to labor together in the grace and love of Christ Jesus, our Lord. Amen.

Background

Jesus, knowing that His hour had come to “depart out of this world to the Father,” gathers with the disciples around table fellowship in this ultimate act of love. This narrative of Jesus begins “the Book of Glory” (ch. 13-21) leading to the crucifixion. Christ, as teacher and savior, leads by example in this symbolic act of washing the feet of his beloved disciples. This memorable act of service is one of equality, one where there is no social status among the company, and our Savior is humbled in service. Gerard Sloyan writes, “Being bathed by Jesus means being symbolically taken into the event of the cross. It is likewise a model of service for the disciples.” In this event, we see that we must be washed clean by our Savior, and in turn, we are sent out to do the very same.

This is the call for the people of God to practice empowering servant leadership. Yet it is a rite of those who believe, who witness and testify to the final hours of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Notice, John begins this “Book of Glory” by stating that “Jesus knew that his hour had come to depart from this world and go to the Father. Having loved his own who were in the world, he loved them to the end” (v. 1). Jesus showed great love to the end, to the ultimate expression of washing the feet of the disciples whom Christ loved. We remember that the table was prepared, and the invitation extended to the Savior who bids us come, but John’s gospel message reminds us that the Savior is also the servant, leading by this ultimate example of love. For all who are in Christ, who have been created in the image of Christ and cleansed by the blood of our Savior, we are empowered and gifted by the same Spirit that was in Jesus to be servant leaders. It is not just in some, but all who are beloved disciples to the very end.

Opening Prayer

God of all praise and glory,
You call us to rejoice in you, to praise your name, to find comfort in your presence, to stand in awe, to bow in confession, to come and worship. And in your worship, you meet us there. Your Spirit proclaims truth, your Word anoints us with wisdom, and your roots grow deeper in our soul. Lord, you deserve our worship each day. So, please forgive us when we forget what it is about, when we think ourselves too busy. Forgive us when we make it about what we desire or what entertains us. This sacred gift of wonder and love was meant to be so much more than we often make it. Yet we long to experience you, God. We need you. So, inspire our worship with your Spirit, so that our hearts and our lives are transformed by your wonder. This we pray to the living God who encounters us in worship. Amen.

Background

The writer of Hebrews uses thematic language to inform the reader that we have “a great high priest,” one who is sympathetic, in whom we find rest on the Holy Day of Sabbath. The writer wants believers to hold fast to confession, because Jesus himself was tempted in every way and yet was sinless. This affirmation of the priestly nature of Christ, explains why we, who are sinners, can approach the throne of our Savior. Christ fully understands the nature of our humanity, and in loving sympathy Christ bids us to come and worship. It is an active call to obedience, just as Christ was obedient to the will of God in suffering death on a cross. “Let us therefore approach the throne of grace with boldness, so that we may receive mercy and find grace to help in time of need” (v. 16).

Too often our worship can become about us—our wants, our preference of style, our comfort in not being exposed, our way of going through the motions with little thought to the traditions. Yet, Spirit-inspired worship calls us into the presence of the “great high priest,” the one who suffered in obedience, so that we might find rest, receive mercy and cling to grace. Spirit-inspired worship holds fast to the truth that when we come into God’s presence, “Indeed, the word of God is living and active, sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing until it divides soul from spirit, joints from marrow; it is able to judge the thoughts and intentions of the heart” (v. 13). Spirit-inspired worship exposes us, brings us to our knees in confession, and offers us freedom and rest in the Savior’s arms. “In the days of his flesh, Jesus offered up prayers and supplications, with loud cries and tears, to the one who was able to save him from death, and he was heard because of his reverent submission. Although he was a Son, he learned obedience through what he suffered; and having been made perfect, he became the source of eternal salvation for all who obey him” (vv. 7-9). It is Jesus Christ who lives and allows us the freedom to come into God’s presence in Spirit-inspired worship.

4. What prevents us from obedience in worshiping in spirit and in truth; in full exposure before the Savior?
5. What does it mean for your life that we have “a great high priest” who has granted us Sabbath?
6. How do you experience God’s presence in daily worship? Does your church equip you to worship daily?

Caring Relationships

Opening Prayer

God of perfect love,
We are cleansed and claimed by the love of Jesus Christ, our Savior. We are redeemed and restored by the self-emptying, sacrificial love poured out. And we are called to love you and all whom you call beloved children. Open our hearts to the needs of our brothers and sisters in Christ. Help us to love as Christ loves: reconciling conflict, supporting all people in tragedy and triumph, and daily surrendering our will for the sake of walking with others. We know that in our own accord, we will be imperfect at this. We will fall short. We will disappoint others and miss opportunities. Yet, Lord, help us to show up, to share Christ, and to be a beacon of hope, justice, love and joy to all whom you call us to care for in our lives. For this we pray in the name of the one whose perfect love casts out all fear, Jesus Christ. Amen.

Background

“Bear one another’s burdens, and in this way, you will fulfill the law of Christ” (v. 2). “If you sow to your own flesh, you will reap corruption from the flesh; but if you sow the Spirit, you will reap eternal life from the Spirit” (v. 8). “So then, whenever we have an opportunity, let us work for the good of all, and especially for those of the family of faith” (v. 10).

He never felt as if he had a place to belong, a place where he was accepted. For twenty years, life circumstances had left him homeless. Yet life had not left Steven bitter. On the contrary, Steven quoted the Word of God in all things. He walked through the breakfast line in the basement of the church every single morning and would greet you with a resounding testimony to the glory of God, and the blessed assurance of a new day now dawning. Every day, as he came in off the streets, he testified to the new day’s opportunity to praise God.

Steven’s friendly demeanor and constant affirmation of the Lord made him an easy relationship for the youth of the church. As the youth began to worship with the homeless community in the sanctuary on Sunday evenings and to dine around table fellowship afterwards, there was an evident shift, a sort of softening about Steven that began to intrigue me. After one Sunday evening worship service, Steven approached me to say a simple phrase: “You’ve done a good thing, Rev.” What initially threw me in this exchange was that Steven’s disposition was more somber and serious. “What’s going on with you?” I asked? “Rev,” he said shaking his head, struggling to collect words. “I’ve been coming into the basement of this church for twenty years for y’all to serve me breakfast. And I’ve been grateful. Lord knows I’ve been grateful. But you know this is the first time I’ve ever been invited and feel welcomed to come into God’s house, into the sanctuary of this building, and worship!?”

Caring relationships. Whenever we have opportunity, let us work for the good of all, and especially for those of the family of faith, because we reap what we sow. It is the most simple and significant of commands, “to love the Lord your God, and to love your neighbor as yourself.” Yet it is, in truth, the most difficult thing to live into. Christ’s true and perfect agape-love, is when the Spirit of Christ dwelling within me meets the Spirit of Christ in you, regardless of all else.

Opening Prayer

Lord,
You are the cornerstone to the church you have gathered and built, a necessary foundation. You build and bind your people together, so that the whole is greater than the sum, so we can be greater and do far greater than if we were alone. In you, we have our breath, and vitality of life. In you, we are a small part of the kingdom of God's glory and the work of redemption for all creation. Yet we make ourselves small. We forget to dream. We lose sight and wander in this world. So, forgive us for losing sight of your mission, for letting go of passion, and for ignoring the gift of being your community—the church. Heal us in your Spirit's power that we might be a community of great faith and deep abiding love for all the world to see. We pray these things in the name of the one who is not finished with us yet, Jesus Christ. Amen.

Background

“Those in Christ are a new creation. All this is from God, who reconciled us to himself through Christ, and has given us the ministry of reconciliation; that is, in Christ God was reconciling the world to himself, not counting their trespasses against them, and entrusting the message of reconciliation to us. So we are ambassadors for Christ, since God is making his appeal through us” (vv. 17-20).

Paul’s address to the church in Corinth is a letter explaining his lack of boastfulness in the work he has done; an all-too-important message for the church sometimes. Paul instead wants people to know that he lives knowing that his life will be judged by Christ, and that Christ’s love controls his whole life. The critics of Paul’s work in Corinth saw the same power struggles, popularity and positions that still occur all too often in the church today. Paul is addressing the fact that none of this is what he’s about or what church is about. What matters is the heart; that’s what Christ will judge in all people. And Paul sees himself as an ambassador of Christ in the ministry of reconciliation. Ernest Best writes, “Ambassadors have full power to speak for the government they represent and can commit it to a course of action. Since they have also often to reconcile opposing views and people, it is an appropriate term to apply to those who represent Christ. If we think of ourselves in this way, then we also need to remember the responsibility that goes with being an ambassador. In what we say and do, we commit our principal, Jesus.”

Ecclesial health is about all people of God coming together in what we say and what we do, because we believe that we are ambassadors of God’s message of reconciliation in a broken and fearful world. It is about how we are church, how we enact and live out being church together. There are going to be critics and unhealthy functions of the church, because we are flawed and sinful human beings. Yet we have a Savior who is not finished reconciling the church and the world to God, and we get to be ambassadors and witnesses in Christ.

The Life Cycle of a Worshiping Community

Section 4

Vital Congregations
The concept of a congregational life cycle has been around for a long time, and is typically illustrated with a diagram such as the one here, which is inspired by models developed and used by the ELCA, American Baptist Churches, the Episcopal Church, the Rothage Life Cycle, the US Congregational Life Survey, George Bullard and others. The bell-shaped curve shows the stages that a congregation can proceed through, from left to right. Note that as we move from left to right, we see the congregation growing and then eventually plateauing (the top of the curve)—but only for a short while—and then steadily declining.

But a gradual progression toward decline and even closure is not inevitable. Worshiping communities can, and often do, break out of this cycle. Note where the model shows a “circling back” toward the thriving stage. This is the result of intentional work on the part of the worshiping community. Note that the further a worshiping community moves over the top of the curve and to the right, the more effort is required to move back to the thriving stage. The easiest, when caught early enough, is to redefine the worshiping community’s vision. But if the community has gone too far for mere redefinition to work, then they must redevelop. And finally, if it has declined too far to be redeveloped, it must birth a new community. We’ve also been experimenting with the idea of adding “resurrection” as a fourth loop at the bottom.

Using new surveys measuring components of spiritual health and financial health, we will be able to place each participating worshiping community at a location on this diagram, which will provide a basic assessment of where the community is currently located in this life cycle.
FOUR QUADRANTS:
Note that the diagram has two axes: vertical (representing the line of spiritual health) and horizontal (representing the line of financial health). A worshiping community that is located above the line of financial health exhibits traits that suggest it will be able to sustain itself for a long period of time. Below that line, it either hasn’t yet achieved financial health (too new) or had it in the past but has lost it. To the left of the line of spiritual health, we have communities that are spiritually healthy; to the right, becoming less so.

Putting these two axes together suggests four different quadrants (beginning at the lower left and moving along the curved line to the right, or clockwise).

QUADRANT 1 — Growing: Worshiping communities in quadrant 1 are in the development stage and are new, excited and vital. They exhibit lots of energy and vision, hope and enthusiasm and a belief that the community has great potential. They are very change-oriented. However, they’re not developed enough at this stage to be considered financially healthy. Perhaps there is not enough participation for financial viability, or perhaps they’re just not yet organized and fully engaged in planning and strategizing. It’s a good place to be, but not for very long. Without more organization and stable leadership, a worshiping community is very vulnerable at this stage. The type of leaders best suited to lead a worshiping community at this stage are catalysts (those with charismatic qualities and entrepreneurial skills, the visionaries) and organizers (those who can grab the vision and run with it, people who know how to get things done). Usually the most growth occurs while a community is in this stage. As they become more organized, newer worshiping communities in quadrant 1 tend to think a lot about inclusion: both inviting those outside of the worshiping community and intentionally including those who have started participating. They need to be thinking about how to draw people in and then how to assimilate them into the group, how to engage members in discovering and using their spiritual gifts and how to distribute and use power and authority.

QUADRANT 2 — Thriving: Worshiping communities in quadrant 2 have achieved financial health while remaining spiritually healthy. Although energy levels may not be as high as they were previously, energy is still there, and it may be renewed or increased by some of the worshiping community’s activity. By now, it has developed a culture of mission and also some services that meet the needs of its participants, the surrounding community and beyond. Saarinen refers to this as programming, which serves specific functions such as worship, music, learning, serving, managing and witnessing. In this context, administration refers to mission statements, goals, objectives, budgets and planning. Worshiping communities in quadrant 2 tend to be higher on programming and administration, and lower on energy and inclusion than quadrant 1 communities, but all four of these “gene structures” are present. A lot of change can lead to conflict; but if well managed, small inevitable conflicts are not detrimental to the overall health of the worshiping community.

At this stage, the community has developed plans for reaching people, assimilating new people and providing intentional spiritual formation. The goal is to get to this quadrant, and when the worshiping community inevitably drifts into quadrant 3 (Declining), through some redefinition of its goals, it can return to quadrant 2 without a great deal of effort. The type of leaders we typically see at this stage might still be the catalysts and/or organizers who got the worshiping community started, but they may have lost some of their enthusiasm and moved from organizers to operators. If they forget about the passion that they once had, they can lead the community into quadrant 3. Or they may have left and been replaced with an operator type. Or a new visionary catalyst or organizer has moved in and is trying to convince the community to do some redefinition of its mission and purpose. If that doesn’t happen quickly, the worshiping community may slide over the hill into quadrant 3 pretty quickly. Worshiping communities in quadrant 2 are still growing, though perhaps at a much slower pace. They are in a pattern of adding enough new members to offset annual losses that naturally occur, and until they slip over the hill, are adding more new members than they lose. Because the energy expended on growth in quadrant 1 shifts to ministry and administration as the worshiping community moves into quadrant 2, growth tends to slow. This is probably the best time for a congregation to consider birthing a new worshiping community.
QUADRANT 3 — Declining: Worshiping communities in this quadrant at first would argue that they have not ventured over the hill and are still in quadrant 2. Indeed, it’s difficult to tell when that point happens. But at some point, a congregation moves from thriving to less thriving, and if not checked, will continue down the quadrant-3 slope towards quadrant 4 (Struggling). Worshiping communities located in this quadrant have typically stopped growing, and at first are in a pattern of maintaining, which slides into patterns of more losses each year than gains. The worshipping community may become bureaucratized to the point where some people begin questioning whether it’s lost its sense of vision or purpose. The people and leaders may have lost their sense of urgency to be on mission, and yet may maintain financial stability due to a large endowment, or by keeping a large enough member base to be able to maintain for years, maybe even decades. Note in the diagram that some redefinition, if it occurs early in the community’s time in quadrant 3, (requiring the leadership of an innovator, who is often not the “operator” leader who brought them here in the first place) the community can return to quadrant 2 without a lot of effort and monumental changes. If not, the community is at risk of catching “survival syndrome,” which is characterized by some of the following: fundraising efforts to keep the doors open, letting staff go to keep functioning with a steadily decreasing budget, developing an attitude of scarcity thinking that replaces abundance thinking, as well as conflict and blame. A worshipping community at this stage needs a healer to lead them. The further the community continues sliding down the hill toward quadrant 4, the more work will be needed to redevelop the community back into a quadrant 3 community. Such work requires the leadership of an innovator who can help the community through the conflict that will inevitably come to move into healthier patterns.

QUADRANT 4 — Struggling: Worshiping communities in this quadrant generally know that they are in trouble, because, at some point, they recognized that they were in quadrant 3 and tried to do something about it. They may have been engaged in major conflict, have developed unhealthy responses to conflict and no longer have healthy systems in place. They may have slowly aged as a community, with their younger generations growing up and moving out. They are usually more engaged in maintenance than in mission at this stage. They are becoming less financially healthy, and as they move toward the end of the cycle, they may come to realize that they are no longer healthy, either spiritually or financially. Quadrant 4 worshipping communities are at a crossroads where they have to choose between doing nothing and inevitably closing their doors, intentionally closing their doors and using any remaining funds to help fund something else, merging with another congregation in a union or federated relationship, or completely rebirthing as something new.

What makes your congregation proud of your church?

What are you doing that guests and members seem to enjoy – what’s your WOW factor?

“Because it’s ALWAYS been that way!”

What’s something that we say “because it’s always been that way”?

What are we afraid to change?
What issues are your church ignoring?
These may be the hard conversations no one wants to have.

What is keeping us from moving forward?

Distractions? Time? Money? Fear?
What needs to become extinct in order to move forward in positive change?

Can we let go of past failures and move on? (Even if we have invested a lot?)
Where might you be called to go?

Dream of what you might be called to be...

Imagine where you could meet a need.

Vital Congregations

Sample Survey of Congregational Vitality
Sample Survey of Congregational Vitality

A Discernment Tool for Sessions and Staff

The questions which follow were designed to guide a discussion on congregational vitality during a session and/or staff meeting. We encourage you to send these questions to leaders about one week before the meeting, to allow them time to individually and prayerfully reflect on the questions in advance. Then, when you come together as a group, spend time considering each of the seven marks separately. If you have enough people, you could divide into seven groups and have each group discuss a single mark, then reconvene to share thoughts. Alternatively, the seven marks could be used as discussion starters over seven meetings, or during a special retreat for discernment about the congregation’s future direction.

1. Lifelong Discipleship Formation

Does your church prioritize faith formation and disciple making?

A. How are members growing in their faith through participation in this congregation?

B. Would you say the following are emphasized in your congregation?

   - Bible study
   - Christian education for adults
   - Christian education for children
   - Prayer circles, prayer chains, prayer partners, prayer walks, etc.
   - Other activities to engage in or learn about spiritual disciplines

C. Does this congregation....?

   - Challenge its members to become more Christ-like
   - Help members apply their faith to everyday life
   - Equip its members to make disciples
   - Emphasize the importance of mentoring and spiritual direction

2. Intentional Authentic Evangelism

Does your church engage in evangelism?

A. Does your church encourage members to...

   - Be open about being Christian when they engage in mission
   - Engage in discussions about religion and spirituality with people of other faiths or no faith
   - Invite others to worship or participate in other church activities, including mission
   - Make efforts to form relationships with people of other faiths or no faith
   - Make specific efforts to reach out to people who are in a different demographic than that of existing members?
   - Spread the word of God through their actions, like serving the community or engaging in mission work
   - Seek opportunities to share their faith in everyday life

B. How often does the leadership of your church talk about evangelism in worship?
C. How true are the following statements?

- Our outward communications make it clear that all are welcome regardless of who they are or what they have done
- This congregation equips members to welcome all people (Romans 15:7)
- This congregation invites people being served by the church into the life of the congregation

3 Outward Incarnational Focus

Does your congregation help others outside the church?

1. How true are the following statements?

- We equip members for ministry wherever they are (community, school, hobby, work)
- People in this community would take notice if our congregation closed
- People in our community know our church leader(s)

2. Would you say that this congregation...

- Provides a moral voice for our community
- Responds to the needs of people in the local community or beyond
- Promotes social justice within our community (Psalm 82:3)
- Teaches that being the church is more important than being at church
- Emphasizes mission over self-preservation
- Is fighting inequality (for example poverty or racism)
- Makes efforts to reach out to people who are different from them
- Has a strong culture of generosity

4 Empowering Servant Leadership

Does your congregation help members find the best way they can contribute to the life of the church?

1. How true are the following statements?

- We have no difficulty finding people to volunteer to serve
- We encourage members to identify and use their God-given gifts (Romans 12:6-8)
- Staff and other leaders here model humility

2. Would you say that this congregation...

- Involves members in the planning of activities and worship
- Equips its members to be and make disciples (Matthew 28:19)
- Emphasizes the importance of mentoring and spiritual direction
- Teaches stewardship (time, talent, treasure) throughout the year

5 Spirit-Inspired Worship

Does your congregation lead inspiring worship?

1. How well do the following terms describe worship services at this congregation?

- Definitely not boring
- Filled with a sense of God’s presence
- Filled with wonder
- Renewing
Thought-provoking  Joyful  Renewing  Thought-provoking

2. Would you say that worship services at this church are designed to...
   - Challenge participants’ assumptions and convictions
   - Help participants understand scripture
   - Encourage participants to take action

Caring Relationships
Does your congregation love and care for all its members?

1. How true are the following statements?
   - People warmly greet one another before or after worship
   - We take care of members who are sick, grieving or otherwise need support
   - We reach out to people who have not been to church in a while
   - I am not aware of any serious conflicts among members
   - We do not have any cliques that are difficult to break into
   - We have an intentional plan to help new members become and remain connected

Ecclesial Health
Does your congregation have healthy systems that allow it to live into its mission?

1. How true are the following statements?
   - We share our church financial picture, including sources and use of funds, with members
   - Our members can articulate our mission/purpose
   - Our members are hopeful or excited about this congregation’s future
   - Decisions are mainly made by session rather than by staff/pastoral leadership
   - Our congregation manages conflict well
   - People do not expect leadership to do everything; members help get things done

2. Would you say that this church...
   - Is willing to change to meet new challenges
   - Has clearly stated beliefs and values
   - Has a healthy sense of mission/purpose
   - Is open to new ideas
   - Helps its leaders avoid burnout
   - Has no unresolved issues of scandal or drastic painful change
   - Engages in difficult conversations

3. How often does the leadership of your church do the following?
   - Gather in prayer and discernment around God’s mission
   - Evaluate programs and/or ministries
   - Evaluate staff using professional evaluation methods
Neighborhood Analysis

1. Lead Dwelling in the Word on Luke 10:1–11
   (see below)

2. Introduce the idea of a neighborhood visit.
   Emphasize that the goal is to get to know more about the neighborhood and its people. We do this by using all five senses. We are not going out to teach anything, to convert anyone, or to change the neighborhood, just to learn from the people who know more about it that we do.

3. Ask participants if they have any ideas how they can learn about the neighborhood. They will probably mention looking at the houses and businesses, observing what kind of services are available, listening to what languages are spoken, talking to people, etc. Press them to come up with as many ideas as possible by asking, “what else?”

4. Explain parameters:
   - They will be going out two by two just as Jesus sent the disciples (three is OK if you have an uneven number)
   - What time they need to return
   - Pray with your partner before leaving the building—that you will find the right people to talk to, that you will be observant and respectful.

5. Give these three assignments:
   - Buy something to eat or drink (I often send them out over lunch and ask them to buy their lunch in the community)
   - Talk to at least one person
   - Bring back a token, something that represents what you learned about the people you met.

6. Give the list of things to look for.

---

Dwelling in the Word

Luke 10:1–11

After this the Lord appointed seventy others and sent them on ahead of him in pairs to every town and place where he himself intended to go. He said to them, “The harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few; therefore ask the Lord of the harvest to send out laborers into his harvest. Go on your way. See, I am sending you out like lambs into the midst of wolves. Carry no purse, no bag, no sandals; and greet no one on the road. Whatever house you enter, first say, ‘Peace to this house!’ And if anyone is there who shares in peace, your peace will rest on that person; but if not, it will return to you. Remain in the same house, eating and drinking whatever they provide, for the laborer deserves to be paid. Do not move about from house to house. Whenever you enter a town and its people welcome you, eat what is set before you; cure the sick who are there, and say to them, ‘The kingdom of God has come near to you.’ But whenever you enter a town and they do not welcome you, go out into its streets and say, ‘Even the dust of your town that clings to our feet, we wipe off in protest against you. Yet know this: the kingdom of God has come near.’

Reflect:
- Listen to the passage.
- Underline any words or phrases that stand out.
- Sit quietly with those words.
- What message do you hear?
- Share with another person.
Debrief:

• Who do you see? Describe the people.
• What are they doing?
• What conversations do you observe?
• Are people alone or in groups?
• Do you see people walking on the streets? Driving? Sitting? Biking?
• How are the people dressed? Pay attention to details such as shoes, jewelry, hair and clothing styles.
• What do you hear and smell?
• Pay attention to the town infrastructure: sidewalks, streetlights, stop lights, signage. What do they tell you about the community?
• Describe the houses you see: single family, apartments, condos? Are they well cared for? Do you see toys in the yards? Cars parked out front? What can you tell about the community?
• What kind of signage do you see? Advertising? Fliers on telephone poles?
• What is your overall impression of the community?
• Is there anything that you might expect to see in a community that seems to be missing?
• Describe the commercial district: what stores do you see? What stores are not present? What signs of commercial vibrancy do you see?
• What businesses do you observe? Can you get a sense of what people in this community do for a living?
• Where are the children? Is there a school in the community? What signs of children or youth activities do you notice?
• What leisure activities can you observe? Is there a gym, movie theater, sports facility, etc.
• What churches or other community gathering places do you observe?
Vital Congregations: A Service of Repentance and Reconciliation

By David Gambrell

The litany of confession and lament near the beginning of this service may be used or adapted as a stand-alone element of worship.

— Gathering —

Gathering Music
Instrumental music or congregational song may precede the service

Opening Sentences
Even now, says the Lord our God, return to me with all your heart. Joel 2:12–13, 28, 32
The Lord is gracious and merciful, slow to anger and abounding in steadfast love.
Hear the promise of the Lord: I will pour out my Spirit on all flesh.
We will dream dreams and see visions; we will call on the name of the Lord!

Hymn
Litany of Confession and Lament
The litany of confession and lament may be led at the baptismal font.
O my people, O my church, says the Lord. See BCW 288
What more could I have done for you?
Holy One, have mercy on us.
A leader may extinguish a candle for each of the seven marks.
We have ignored and impeded lifelong discipleship formation God’s call to follow the way of Jesus.
Holy One, have mercy on us.
We have silenced and suppressed intentional authentic evangelism the good news of God’s holy realm.
Holy One, have mercy on us.
We have forgotten and forsaken the gift of God’s Word made flesh.

Holy One, have mercy on us.

We have ridiculed and rejected Jesus’ example of humble service.

Holy One, have mercy on us.

We have hidden and hoarded the transforming presence of Christ.

Holy One, have mercy on us.

We have denied and disregarded God’s great love for all the world.

Holy One, have mercy on us.

We have abused and abandoned our common ministry in Jesus’ name.

Holy One, have mercy on us.

A time of silence follows. Then a leader relights each candle from the paschal candle.

--- Word ---

Prayer for Illumination

Instrumental music or congregational song may precede the service

Opening Sentences

Holy God, by your Word and Spirit, breathe life into our dry bones so that we may be a vital sign of the new life you offer to the world; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Prayers of Intercession

Living God, hear our prayers for your church and your world

The following response may follow each petition:

Lord, in your mercy, hear our prayer.

We pray for the life of the church ... ecclesial health Support us in our weakness, heal us in our brokenness,
and use us to do your will.

We pray for loved ones ... caring relationships
Surround them with your care, deliver them from danger,
and bless them with your grace.

We pray for the gifts of your Spirit ... spirit-filled worship
Shape us through your Word, wash us in your mercy,
and feed us at your table.

We pray for leaders ... empowering servant leadership
Awaken them to do justice, teach them to love kindness,
and help them to walk humbly with you.

We pray for all who serve your mission ... outward incarnational focus Move us with compassion for those in need, send us out to share your gifts,
and make us good stewards of your creation.

We pray for all who share the gospel ... intentional authentic evangelism Inspire them to proclaim good news, equip them to show your way,
and empower them to speak the truth in love.

We pray for all who follow Jesus ... lifelong discipleship formation
Keep us faithful as Christ’s disciples, guide us in his way of life,
and strengthen us to serve you always.
Other petitions may be added.

Holy One, let your church be a living sign of your great love for the world, until all may rejoice and give thanks at the coming of your glorious realm; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Offering

Instrumental music or congregational song may precede the service

Jesus said: Come to me, all who are weary and carrying heavy burdens, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn from me; for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

As the offering is gathered, the table is prepared.

Great Thanksgiving

The introductory dialogue (“The Lord be with you...”) may be included here.

Blessed are you, O Lord our God: You are our shepherd; in you there is nothing we lack. You make us lie down in green pastures. You lead us beside still waters and restore our souls. You lead us in right paths for your name’s sake. The Sanctus (“Holy, holy, holy ...”) may be included here.

Blessed is Jesus Christ, our Savior: Jesus walks with us through the darkest valleys. We fear no evil, for Jesus is with us. He comforts us—even through his cross.
The words of institution are included here:

With thanksgiving, we remember how Jesus took the bread . . .
With thanksgiving, we remember how Jesus took the cup . . .
For your table of grace in the midst of sin and death,
for your oil of gladness, anointing our heads,
for your cup of blessing, overflowing in our lives,
we give you thanks and praise, O God.

The mystery of faith (“Christ has died...”) may be included here.

Pour out your Holy Spirit upon us and upon this bread and cup;
make us one in the body and blood of Jesus Christ our Lord.
Let your goodness and mercy follow us, O God,
all the days of our lives,
and let us dwell in your house our whole lives long.
Through the Lord Jesus Christ,
in the unity of the Spirit,
we bless you, God of glory,
now and forever. Amen.

The Lord’s Prayer follows.

Blessed is Jesus Christ, our Savior:
Jesus walks with us through the darkest valleys.
We fear no evil, for Jesus is with us.
He comforts us—even through his cross.

Breaking of the Bread

The bread is broken in silence.
Then the minister says:

Jesus said: I am the good shepherd.
I lay down my life for the sheep.
John 10:10–11, 14–15
Jesus said: I am the good shepherd.
I know my own and my own know me.
Jesus said: I am the good shepherd.
I came that you might have life,
and have it abundantly.
— Sending —

Hymn

Blessing and Charge

As Jesus loves us, let us love one another. John 13:34; Num. 6:24–26

This is Christ’s new commandment.
The Lord bless you and keep you.
The Lord be kind and gracious to you.
The Lord look upon you with favor and give you peace. Alleluia!

Worshipers may share signs of peace.

Section 9
Gathering Music
Instrumental music or congregational song may precede the service.

Opening Sentences
The Lord says: Do not fear, for I have redeemed you; I have called you by name, you are mine.
When we pass through the waters, God is with us; when we walk through the fire we will not be burned.
Do not remember the former things, or consider the things of old.
God is about to do a new thing; now it springs forth!

Hymn

Confession and Pardon
Through Jesus Christ, God has entrusted us with the message and ministry of reconciliation.
Trusting in God’s grace, let us confess our sin.

Holy One, our great Redeemer—you have created us to be your people;
you have called us from captivity to freedom;
you have delivered us from death to life.
Yet we have wandered in the wilderness;
we have failed to keep your commandments;
we have put our trust in false idols.
Forgive us, God of grace.
Fill us with hope, feed us with mercy,
and lead us into the land of your promise;
through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
Anyone who is in Christ is a new creation. The old life has gone; a new life has begun. Know that you are forgiven and be at peace. Amen.

Worshipers may share signs of peace.

Offering
I appeal to you, by the mercy of God, Rom. 12:1
to present yourselves as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God.
This is our spiritual worship.
As the offering is gathered, the table is prepared.
The covenant for congregational vitality may also be presented at this time

Great Thanksgiving
The introductory dialogue (“The Lord be with you...”) may be included here.

Blessed are you, O Lord our God:

In the beginning, when there was only chaos and darkness covered the face of the deep,
you began to create the heavens and the earth.
On the first day of the week, you spoke,
and by your word you gave light to the world.
In the fullness of time you claimed us as your holy people, calling us out of darkness and into your marvelous light.

The Sanctus (“Holy, holy, holy...”) may be included here.

Blessed is Jesus Christ, our Savior:

In the beginning, Jesus was with you as your Word, and through him all things came into being.
In the fullness of time you sent him to dwell among us as your Word made flesh, full of grace and truth.

The words of institution are included here:

With thanksgiving, we remember how Jesus took the bread...
With thanksgiving, we remember how Jesus took the cup...
Though Jesus gave his own life for our salvation,
the darkness could not overcome his light.
On the first day of the week, you spoke again,
and raised him from death to life.
Now open our eyes to recognize him in the breaking of the bread.

The mystery of faith (“Christ has died...”) may be included here

Pour out your Holy Spirit upon us and upon this bread and cup;
make us one in the body and blood of Jesus Christ our Lord.
Speak to us on this day, O Lord our God.
Breathe new life into our dry bones.
Help us to bear witness to the light of Christ that all the world may know he is risen indeed.
In the fullness of time, bring to completion
the good work you have begun in us.
As you have been with us from the beginning,
[be] with us always, to the end of the age.
Through the Lord Jesus Christ,
in the unity of the Spirit,
we bless you, God of glory,
now and forever. Amen.
The Lord’s Prayer follows.

Breaking of the Bread
The bread is broken in silence.
Then the minister says:

Jesus said: I am the resurrection and the life.    John 11:25–26
Those who trust in me, even though they die, will live, and everyone who lives and believes in me will never die.

Communion
After receiving communion, worshipers may be invited to sign their names in a book or on a banner representing their commitment to congregational vitality.
After communion, all may pray:

We give you thanks and praise, O God,    Acts 2:42–47 for the presence of Christ in this place—in the teaching and fellowship,
the breaking of bread and the prayers.
Send us out to tell of signs and wonders and share the blessings we have received.
Day by day, use our witness and work to add to the number you have saved, until you gather us up in your glory;
through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
Litany of Commitment

The litany of commitment may be led from the baptismal font.

Trusting in the gracious mercy of God, do you renounce the power of death and trust in the Lord of life?

— Sending —
Almighty and eternal God, by your grace you have called us to this time and place to be your servant people as we follow our servant Lord. Make your Holy Spirit move within and among us, that together we may live a new life in the crucified and risen Christ. Bind us together in faith, so that as we receive all spiritual gifts needed to fulfill our calling, we may support one another in common ministry; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Hymn

Blessing and Charge

The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Spirit be with you all. Alleluia!

Go therefore and make disciples.

The Lord is with you always. Amen.
