

Azing Chin

Select Language

Powered by Google Translate

Support Azing

Read Azing's blog

My name is Azing Chin. I was born in Burma but live in Princeton, New Jersey. I graduated from Lafayette College with a degree in anthropology and sociology and plan on becoming a nurse in the future. Even from a young age, I knew my calling was to help others who are in need. I decided to become a YAV in Asheville, North Carolina, after graduating college because I wanted to take the time to give back to the world and battle the social injustices in our society. I am excited for this new adventure and cannot wait to grow in my faith.