

Amanda Kirkscey

Select Language

Powered by  Translate

Support Amanda

Read Amanda's Blog

Howdy! My name is Amanda Kirkscey. I am 27 years old, and I spent the majority of those in the great state of Texas. I graduated from Texas A&M University in 2014 (Whoop!) with a degree in marketing. I am passionate about human rights and spreading the love of God through personal relationships. Empathy and curiosity are incredible tools against the hate I see in the world today. I am excited to spend the next year as a Young Adult Volunteer (YAV) in South Korea listening to and learning from my new community, as well as growing closer to Jesus through self-reflection and Bible study.