

Brendan Stump

Select Language

Powered by  Translate

Support Brendan

Read Brendan's blog

My name is Brendan, though many of my friends call me Stumpy. I have several years of experience working as a camp counselor and graduated from college in November. My hobbies include reading, writing, and playing music on guitar and piano. I love being helpful and leaving positive impacts on others.

I have grown up in an area with low levels of diversity and look forward to a year where I can not only make my own ideas outside my comfort zone, but hopefully make a lasting impression on all those I meet as well. I know this year will change me, and I look forward to becoming the person God wants me to be!