My name is Davis Howe. I am 23 years old and was born in Memphis, Tennessee. I have worked as a summer camp director for two years, and a bartender for eight months. I am passionate about helping kids develop themselves, and I find strength in my writing hobby. I believe that we all go through struggles in life, and coming together as a community can help mend the pain we can all feel. Through this year of intentional community and volunteering, I hope to discern my own path, while making positive changes in the lives of others, and maybe make a few friends along the way!
