Hi! I'm Hannah Donoghue. I am about to be a second-year YAV serving in Chicago again! I have had one crazy, transformative, unbelievably fulfilling year and am very eager to see what next year has in store for me. I am fierce and passionate about social change and the dignity of every person's life, no matter how our media and society view them.

I look to theatre as a place to show me where our society is going wrong and how we might imagine it differently. I love working with young adults (so it's great that I get to do that in my work next year at the Br. David Darst Center). I am also eager to learn more about my own faith and how it calls me into action. I invite you to join me on this journey through my blog, to see the ways I grow in faith and self-knowledge this year!
