

Molly Franklin

Select Language

Powered by  Translate

Support Molly

Read Molly's blog

My name is Molly Franklin. I am a 24-year-old from Morganton, North Carolina. I graduated from UNC Charlotte in the summer of 2016 with degrees in criminology and English. I planned to attend law school. In the months after my graduation, I worked in the legal field and quickly realized that a career in the justice system wasn't for me. God has been calling me in a different direction and I am listening and learning to trust in His plan. While I am not precisely sure what career I am being called to, I am sure that it is one of service to all of God's people. Starting in August, I will be doing just that as a Young Adult Volunteer in New Orleans and I couldn't be more excited!