Imagine wanting to deepen your faith and finding the door locked.

Now imagine you're the key that people need.

Would YOU open the door for others?

Hungry for a spiritual home.

The Ghanaian Presbyterian Fellowship of Delaware began with just eight people. Now they number more than 60 and are searching for a permanent place of worship.

Eager to share the gospel.

Rev. Thysan Sam was in a refugee camp on the Cambodian-Thai border when he was given a Bible. As the second Cambodian ordained to ministry in the PC(USA), he now lives out his promise to minister to others.

Longing for Jesus.

When parishioners of the Korean Presbyterian Church in Cincinnati, Ohio, sought to grow their church by going door-to-door, they met two teenagers from Nepal who were eager to know more. It was the beginning of a fast-growing Nepali ministry.

“God wants us to take care of other people, too, not just the people closest to us, or who look like us, or speak the same language.” —Rev. Ion Jong Koh

*“I thank God to be in this denomination.”
—Rev. Thysan Sam*

Please help with your gift today.

Racial ethnic and new immigrant communities often face challenges such as language barriers, the need for resources, and immigration issues—or they simply don’t feel there is a place for them in many churches.

Together, we can help others find a spiritual home, share the gospel, and together with us, worship Christ Jesus. That’s why Racial Ethnic & Women’s Ministries has set a goal to raise $1.5 million over the next three years to develop racial ethnic and new immigrant worshipping communities.

YOUR gift enables us to inspire, equip, and connect those who seek to deepen their faith in new worshipping communities.

We will raise $1.5 million by 2015. Join us as we come together, changing lives through Christ’s love. Support current and emerging racial ethnic and new immigrant worshipping communities.

Please use the enclosed envelope to give today. Mail your gift to RE&WM—Racial Ethnic & New Immigrant Initiative, or make a donation online at www.pcusa.org/raciaethnic
