

Sara Babcock

Select Language

Powered by  Translate

Support Sara

Read Sara's Blog

Hi there! My name is Sara Babcock. After graduating from Kalamazoo College in 2015, I moved back to my native Nebraska. Still unsure what to “do” with my life, I’ve spent this time re-introducing myself to the communities of my childhood, which has often meant opening my heart to the pain and challenges of rural and small-town life. My faith guides me to fight for a more just world and I hope that this year in D.C. will give me the tools to start discerning how I am called to do that.