Hey y'all! My name is Sophie Schreiber and, although I have found a home in Utah for the past eight years, I am still a southern girl at heart. I was born in Atlanta, Georgia, and I have moved with my family to Texas, Illinois, back to Georgia and to Utah. My hobbies include reading, writing, world travel and singing in the community choir at Westminster College. I am also a member at Community of Grace Presbyterian Church and have been attending services at Wasatch Presbyterian as well, since I went off to college. I tend to be a very thoughtful, optimistic person and I am an Aquarius and an animal lover. I also enjoy making people laugh.
