Hi! I'm Susannah. I'm 21 years old and I graduated from Hendrix College in May with a Bachelor of Arts in creative writing. I'm an aspiring writer, and I believe that writing can help people claim their own stories and gain understanding and compassion for the stories of others. I also care deeply about social justice and learning how to make the world a more sustainable, peaceful, accepting place. I'm so excited to embark on this year of service — to work, to build relationships, to learn a new language and culture, and to grow closer to Jesus.
