

Victoria Alexander

Select Language

Powered by  Translate

Support Victoria

Read Victoria's blog

with people who feel called by God and guided by our faith as I do to love and serve our neighbors, be they in our local communities, or our global community.

Hey y'all! I am Victoria Alexander and I am 22 years old, from Greensboro, North Carolina. I graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill with double majors in Global Health and Medical Humanities, and a minor in neuroscience. Much of my time in undergrad was spent studying inequities in all forms, and I am excited to be in the YAV program to take tangible action outside of the classroom to confront these injustices. I am thankful that I get to spend the next year growing and learning in a YAV community